GREATER PITTSBURGH BILL FINDS OPPOSITION IN HOUSE FROM ALLEGHENY COUNTY MEN

Representative Scott Says Measure Must Be Greatly Amended or Strong Effort Will Be Made to Kill It.

HIS CHIEF OBJECTION BASED ON PHRASEOLOGY

Also Declares It Another Ripper Aimed to Be Used as Club With Which to Control Recorder-Elect Wyman.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

Harrisburg, Pa., March 10.—Serious opposition to the Greater Pittsburgh bill has developed. The fight against it will be made by members of the Allegheny county delgation.

In its present shape the measure is unsatisfactory to the country members and Messrs. Scott, Esler, McWhinney, Moore and Kirker will oppose it. None of these claim to be against the general proposition, but say that it is defective in its present form and, while possibly satisfactory to the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, such is not the case in regard to the boroughs and townships.

Inquiry also develops the fact that several members from Pittsburgh and Allegheny are uncertain as to what position they will assume. They frankly admit that with them the question is one of political consideration, and that they have as yet received no advices from their home leaders. The bill will be messaged to the house tomorrow and referred to the committee on municipal corporations, Chairman Colville, of the committee, said tonight that it was the intention so far as he knew, to report it favorably. At the time he made the statement, however, he did not know that it would be opposed by the members from Allegheny. There are four members from Allegheny on this committee. They are Messrs. Moore, Wittig, Nichols and Yellig.

SCOTT OUTLINES OBJECTIONS.

Representative Scott tonight said he had the authority to speak for all of the country members whose names are here given. An effort, he said, would be made to amend the bill in committee, and in case this fails, he and his colleagues will try to kill it, either in committee or on the floor of the house. He declared with emphasis that neither he nor the others were opposed to the principle of a Greater Pittsburgh, but said that the bill as drafted was of doubtful phraseology and its provisions nonsensical from beginning to end.

The title, he said, was neither comprehensive nor descriptive of the purposes of the bill. It has been drafted especially in the interest of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and while it might cover their needs, it would not suit the boroughs and townships. Scott declared the bill to be another "ripper," that it was drawn to be used as a club with which to control Recorder-elect Wyman.

The consolidating of both councils, Scott said, is provided for, also that the members of each branch shall serve out the terms for which they were elected, but the heads of the departments of the annexed territory are to be removed.

He also objects to the clause providing for representation in councils of members of council from boroughs and townships hereafter to be taken in and made a part of the greater city.

WOULD CONTROL COUNCILS.

It is suggested by Scott that the members of the chamber of commerce give another reading to their measure. He believes that these gentlemen will readily discover the objectionable features referred to by himself and consent to necessary amendments, in which case all opposition would be removed. The title in particular, according to Scott, is seriously defective and he thinks it could be made much clearer and more comprehensive without weakening its constitutional status.

No notice until tonight had been given of an intention on the part of the members from Allegheny county to oppose the Greater Pittsburgh bill. The announcement of their position has created general surprise. If there are any underlying motives beyond those given by Scott prompting their action they have not been made public. There may be some significance of a political nature in Scott's reference to Mr. Wyman. Friends of the bill believe that it will have a good chance of passage, providing the corrections noted are made, and that the present flurry will amount to only a tempest in a teapot, unless it shall be found that the political leaders have given orders to kill the bill.

SENATOR MAGEE'S OPINION.

Senator Magee was asked tonight what he thought of the position assumed by Representative Scott and his colleagues. He said that personally he unqualifiedly favored a Greater Pittsburgh. He did not understand that Mr. Scott differed with him upon this proposition. It was his opinion that Mr. Scott and his colleagues should direct their attention to amending rather than opposing the bill. He believed that the exceptions were all susceptible of adjustment.

"I, too, am in favor of a Greater Pittsburgh bill," said Senator Crawford, "but I do not believe that such a dream will ever be realized under the present bill. The thing to do is for the legislature to pass a compulsory bill, establishing Greater Pittsburgh lines, and that the outlying boroughs and townships should be given a chance to annex themselves when they so desired. The objections pointed out by Mr. Scott are certainly important."

Another member, who declined to permit the use of his name, pointed out the fact that in the boroughs there are no select councilmen, and asked to which branch these councilmen would be assigned. He also said that in the event of the merging of townships, such territory, having no councilmen, would be without representation. Again he referred to the fact that in cities common councilmen are elected for two years, and members of select for four, while in the boroughs the members are elected for three years.

"Suppose Mt. Oliver borough and its 7 councilmen, Knoxville with 7, Montooth with 7, Homestead with 14, Braddock with 12 and Duquesne with 9, a total of 56, should be annexed, they would be able to out-vote the 40 members which now represents Pittsburgh," he said.

SENATOR MAGEE AGAINST BOARDS OF ESTIMATES

Technical School Site Bill Passes Second Reading Without Opposition.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, March 10.—The Woods "tech." site bill passed second reading without opposition in the senate this morning. It is scheduled to pass finally tomorrow.

Senator Magee will oppose the Goehring bill providing a board of estimates in cities of the second class. He contends that the bill would take from the finance committee of councils their most important functions; that it is revolutionary in character, and vests the recorder or mayor with extraordinary powers not in keeping with the intent of the charter or desired by the people.

The Gransbach bill providing for the creation of an elevator bureau in cities, the superintendent of which may dictate to merchants, manufacturers and others the kind of elevators they shall use, is now on third reading in the house. It passed the senate without protest, but will be fought in the house. Representative John Francies of Allegheny characterizes the measure as the most vicious yet introduced; declares it to be in the interest of the elevator trust, and hopes to defeat it.

Anderson H. Walters, publisher of the Johnstown Tribune, and H. W. Story, Republican deputy county chairman, were here today in the interest of the new county which is to be erected from portions of Cambria, Westmoreland, Indiana and Somerset. They had a conference with Senator Fisher, Mr. Hohman of Cambria, Thompson of Fayette and others interested. Opposition generally has hinged on the contention that the new county would disturb the status quo of congressional, senatorial and legislative districts. Mr. Anderson claimed this was true, and Senator Fisher of Indiana concurred. He referred to the fact that a congressional apportionment which stands for 10 years has been made, and that a change in county lines would not affect districts as constituted. It being understood that there will not be any senatorial or legislative apportionment, in his opinion, disposed of the other two objections. A hearing on the bill before the senate committee on

MISSED THE TARGET AND KILLED PLAYMATE

Allegheny Lad Died Yesterday of Gunshot Wound Received Last Friday.

Andrew Gregor, the 8-year-old son of Michael Gregor of No. 1 Spruce street, Allegheny, died yesterday afternoon at St. John's General hospital, the result of a gunshot wound received last Friday. The boy was accidentally shot by John Elwell, aged 9, who was firing at a target in the rear of his father's saloon, No. 128 Cass avenue. The ball entered young Gregor's left hip and lodged in the pelvis. Physicians say the boy died of shock.

Thomas Elwell, father of the boy who did the shooting, has been dangerously ill at St. John's hospital for four weeks, and was in the same ward with the boy whose death was caused by his son. Mrs. Elwell is sick at her home and is almost prostrated by the trouble her son has caused.

The Elwell family is almost as much broken up over the affair as is the dead boy's family.

SIGHT OF THIEF'S FACE KILLS ST. LOUIS MAIDEN

It Recalled Terrifying Scene in Which Her Father Was Beaten by Robbers.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, March 10.—Heart disease, brought on by seeing robbers beat her aged father, terminated fatally today for Julia Boismenue.

Nicholas Boismenue keeps a tavern near Cahokia Ferry. Two months ago robbers entered his place and beat the old man so badly that for weeks his life was despaired of. Julia Boismenue, 18 years of age, was compelled to witness the murderous attack. She implored the ruffians to spare her father's life, but they threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

Yesterday she was standing at the window in her home. Pointing to a man passing in the street the girl exclaimed: "That face," and fell to the floor unconscious. Every one gave attention to reviving her, hence no one can say who it was that caused her to cry out.

HOOSIER VILLAGE WILL MOVE TO THE RAILROAD

Route Dodges the Town by a Half Mile and General Flitting Ensues.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LOGANSPORT, IND., March 10.—The town of Twelve Mile, in Adams township, is determined to enjoy the benefits of a railroad.

The new Cincinnati, Richmond & Muncie railroad missed the town half a mile. When the road was contemplated, Adams voted an $11,000 subsidy, the only requirement being that the road run within half a mile of Twelve Mile. As soon as the subsidy was voted the surveyors put the road just within the half-mile limit, leaving Twelve Mile to the east.

The business men were disappointed, but they are going to make the best of the situation. All stores, including the postoffice, will move to the railroad track within four months. Two or three buildings are now in course of erection, and others will be built soon.

STEEL COMBINE BARGAINS WITH FOREST CITY RIVAL

Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company About to Be Absorbed by Big Concern.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ISHPEMING, MICH., March 10.—Negotiations are pending whereby the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company probably will be absorbed by the United States Steel Corporation. It is reported here that the preliminary arrangements are complete.

The Cleveland Cliffs Company, the corporation's chief mining rival, is the largest independent ore producer in the Lake Superior district, owning a large number of developed and undeveloped properties on the Marquette, Gogebic and Mesaba ranges. It also owns several blast furnaces and possesses more than 10,000 acres of land, covered with hardwood timber. Besides a fleet of ore carriers, it owns three railroads, the Munising, the Marquette & Southeastern and the Lake Superior & Ishpeming, aggregating over 150 miles in length.

RUSSIA DISPLEASED.

Decision of Hague Tribunal in Sealing Ships Case Not to Be Precedent.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 10.—(Special Cable.)—The decision of The Hague tribunal in the matter of the sealing ships, Cape Horn Pigeon, James Hamilton, Lewis H. White and Kate and Ann in favor of the United States is officially published.

A rider, however, to the effect that, although Russia submitted this particular question to arbitration and highly appreciated the labors of the arbitrator, it is to be clearly understood that the power of the arbitrator only applies to this particular case. Russia reserves herself the right in all other controversies in which she may be engaged with the United States to make use of her own powers to effect a solution.

It is taken that Russia is none too pleased at the result of arbitration in this case.

WOMAN MURDERED.

Prominent Contractor, Held by Lexington, Ky., Authorities, Charged With the Crime.

LEXINGTON, KY., March 10.—(Special.)—This morning the body of a white woman, about 35 years of age, was found in a pond in Seventh street. There were marks about her throat and her left eye was discolored.

James W. Boss, a prominent contractor, was called to the station house to explain his relations with the woman. He claimed he had not seen her since Thursday, but several witnesses testified that they were seen together in a buggy on Saturday night.

The jury found that the woman was dead when placed in the water and later tonight Dr. Healy held an autopsy finding that the bones in her neck were broken and that there was no evidence of drowning. Boss was immediately placed in jail charged with murder.

WOULD SENTENCE TO JAIL TOO PROLIFIC FATHERS

Philadelphian Is Found Who Does Not Agree With Blumle That Medals Should Be Given Mothers of Large Families.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, PA., March 10.—The Blumle bill, providing that the state shall give gold medals to the mothers of large families, was favorably reported this afternoon by the house committee on health and sanitation. The committee also passed favorably on the Kepler bill prohibiting miscegenation.

Mr. Blumle has received many complimentary letters, but there are exceptions. He today received a letter from a Philadelphia man, which reads:

Sir—If you are earnest about the proposed bill to reward mothers of 12 children and over, then you must be a very foolish person and it is beyond my comprehension that any constituency should have elected you. Perhaps you are simply advertising yourself. I would—had I the power—draft a bill that would have for its object the imprisonment for one year for each child over six children, that any father of a family produced, so that you would, under my bill, have six years in jail due you.

There are too many people in the world now under present social conditions, and foolish as my proposed bill may appear, it is not near so foolish as yours, which would only make poverty and crime still more rampant. Yours in the fool cause,

A. POTTER.

VESUVIUS SHOWING SIGNS OF ACTIVITY

Flags Train With Tablecloth.

POTTSVILLE, PA., March 10.—(Special.)—The presence of mind of Samuel Updegraf, aged 12, saved the Pennsylvania "flyer" from being wrecked at Monanacqua station today. The boy discovered that several tons of rock had fallen upon the track. He took a table cloth, covering a basket of provision, and flagged the train.

FOOTBALL IS BLAMED FOR TOO MANY DEATHS

CLEVELAND, March 10.—(Special.)—President Thwing of Western Reserve university has been investigating the cause of a number of deaths charged to football, and finds that the game was really not to blame. He says football is no more dangerous, under proper conditions, than are most college sports.

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—(Special.)—A daring robbery was committed at the residence of Henry Blanchard Curran of Germantown, on Monday evening and the loss of money, jewelry, etc., amounted to about $3,000. The family sat down to dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Within the next hour the robbery occurred and not a clue was left behind.

SNAKE CATCHERS ARE GIVEN EXAMINATION FOR GOVERNMENT JOB

Six Applicants Lay Claim to Vacancy in National Museum Reptile Department.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

Washington, March 10.—Six candidates for the position of snake catcher to the division of Reptiles and Batrachians of the National Museum presented themselves today before the civil service commission and were examined as to their knowledge of snakes and called upon to prove that their prowess as snake charmers were not mythical.

The fortunate one of the six who strove for this peculiar berth in the government service will have the scientific title of "Aid in Herpetology" and will receive a compensation of $50 a month. One of the candidates was a young man not more than 20. Several were middle-aged and one, a bewhiskered and bewildered countryman, laid claim to the office on account of the presentation of a photograph showing his body covered with snakes. The candidates were called upon to tell what they knew about snakes.

MADE GOOD IMPRESSION AND INHERITED FORTUNE

A Nashville Millionaire Took Strange Fancy to a Baltimore Bank Clerk.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, March 10.—The faculty of making a good impression has made a former Baltimorean a millionaire. This lucky individual is Thomas J. Feldner, who about five years ago was an employe of the banking house of Hambleton & Co.

While in Nashville Feldner was introduced to Samuel M. Murphy, a director of the Nashville railway and reputed to be the richest man in Tennessee. A warm friendship followed and resulted in the decision of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, who were without children, to adopt young Feldner and his wife. The papers were made out for this arrangement and Mr. Murphy was to have announced it to the young couple on Christmas, but his sudden death stopped this plan. His widow, however, carried out the arrangement. As a result Mr. and Mrs. Feldner inherited $1,500,000.

Mrs. Feldner was a daughter of Milton H. Smith, a former Baltimorean, who is now president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad. A tragic feature of the courtship was that when their engagement was announced a rival of Mr. Feldner rushed into the presence of the young lady and shot himself.

RUMOR AGAIN GOING ABOUT A BANK MERGER

Nothing Definite Given Out About Bank of Commerce and Union Trust Company.

The rumor that the Union Trust Company had absorbed, or was about to absorb, the Pittsburgh National Bank of Commerce, was again in circulation yesterday. Many of the directors and officers of the National Bank of Commerce are out of town and no information from that source could be obtained.

H. C. McEldowney, president of the Union Trust Company, said that he was not ready to say anything about the matter, and would not say whether any negotiations were going on or had been completed. Other officers and directors of the Union Trust Company said they knew nothing about the matter.

The Pittsburgh National Bank of Commerce was organized in 1864. It has a capital stock of $500,000, a surplus of $1,000,000 and $60,000 undivided profits. Charles Lockhart is the president. A. W. Mellon, J. H. Lockhart and H. C. Frick are directors in the trust company and also in the bank.

SIX DIED AT SEA.

Bubonic Plague or Cholera Is Blamed for Fatalities on the Karamania.

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Special.)—Four passengers and two of the crew of the Anchor line steamer Karamania died suddenly and mysteriously during the trip of that craft from Marseilles. The Karamania is held at quarantine, Staten Island, pending an investigation by Health Officer Doty.

The latter is said to be annoyed that by order of the Karamania's surgeon all the victims were hastily buried at sea without any autopsy being performed. It was common gossip about the quarantine grounds that the health officer was of the opinion that at least one of the deaths was from cholera or bubonic plague.

President Appoints Plimley.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt today appointed William Plimley of New York to be sub-treasurer at New York to succeed Conrad N. Jordan. Senator Platt acquiesced in the naming of Plimley, who was later confirmed by the senate.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT ADDS ANOTHER TRAGIC CHAPTER TO BURDICK MURDER MYSTERY

Arthur R. Pennell Killed and Wife Horribly Hurt by Machine Leaping Over 30-Foot Precipice.

DEAD MAN WAS SUSPECTED OF SENSATIONAL CRIME

Suicide Theory Advanced to Explain Unaccountable Swerving of Swiftly Moving Machine Toward Dangerous Declivity.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Buffalo, March 10.—With the name on the lips of thousands of Buffalonians as the chief suspect in the sensational Burdick murder mystery, and the police probing into the depths of his personal life and his relations with Mrs. Burdick, Arthur R. Pennell, the co-respondent in the divorce suit of Mr. Burdick against his wife, was instantly killed tonight by the crashing of his automobile over a precipice into a stone quarry. His wife, who occupied a seat beside him, was probably mortally hurt. She was taken to a hospital unconscious and the doctors say she will probably die before regaining her senses.

The accident happened in one of the outlying districts about 6 o'clock. The wrecked automobile is the one in which Mr. Pennell frequently, it is alleged, took Mrs. Burdick riding.

With the spreading of the report of this sensational development in one of the most startling and profound murder mysteries that the police of Buffalo have ever had to solve, came the rumor that Mr. Pennell, hounded by the association of his name with the murder and worry over the disgrace that had been thrust upon him, had committed suicide. But so far as the official information was concerned, there was no corroboration of this report. There was nothing in his pocket to indicate that he had contemplated self-destruction, and no inkling had been given to any of his friends that he had such plans in his mind.

MACHINE SWERVED SUDDENLY.

The automobile veered suddenly as he reached for his hat, it is said, and leaped over the curb and down in a quarry. The accident happened on Kensington avenue, one-eighth of a mile east of Fillmore avenue. The quarry is the Yamerthal and runs parallel with the street about eight feet from the curb. There are no houses on either side of the street for many blocks. Pennell was coming west, toward the center of the city.

The machine is a light roadster and was moving rapidly. Mr. Pennell was sitting on the right and his wife, with a wrap clasped tightly about her, leaned close to him. About 100 feet ahead some boys saw the machine coming, and they say Mr. Pennell's hat was dislodged by a gust of wind. He reached for it and a second later the machine, running at a speed of 12 miles an hour, swung sharply to the left and listed to one side. Mrs. Pennell rose from the seat and as her husband strove to grasp the steering rope the machine plunged over the edge of the precipice and into the quarry. A woman's scream marked the disappearance of the automobile from the sight of the boys, and a moment later the youngsters heard a terrific crash.

Darkness was just setting in and a thick mist hung over the quarry and the skirting meadows. The boys, greatly frightened, ran with all speed to give the alarm. The drop was 30 feet and Mr. Pennell was terribly crushed.

WIFE FORGAVE MANY FAULTS.

Mr. Pennell carried $200,000 insurance on his life, all of which, it is said, was made over to his wife, who clung to him through all his troubles, forgave him time and time again for his alleged indiscretions with Mrs. Burdick and other women, and had promised, even after his name had been dragged through the scandalous mire of the Burdick investigation, to stick to him.

The devotion of Mrs. Pennell was the subject of much comment. She is the daughter of well-known Buffalo parents, and recently came into possession of $150,000. Mr. Pennell was a lawyer, but had a small practice which he paid but little attention to.

The city was shocked by the knowledge of this tragedy following a tragedy. Sensational developments had been looked for. Suicide, even, on the part of some of the persons who have been constantly in the shadow of the police suspicion would not have startled a great many persons in Buffalo.

Mrs. Pennell at midnight had not regained consciousness at the Sisters hospital, and although no official report as to her condition could be obtained, her recovery is considered extremely improbable, and there is little likelihood that she will ever regain consciousness. She was taken to the hospital shortly after 6:30 o'clock, and was at once placed on the operating table. She was unconscious and covered with blood from many wounds sustained in her fall.

SUSTAINED SEVERE INJURIES.

She has a cut about four inches in length above her right eye, and probably a fractured skull. Her right arm is fractured above the wrist, the index finger of her left hand is broken and her face is badly cut. Her breast and body are badly bruised from impact with the rock, and it is considered most probable that she has sustained severe internal injuries. Mrs. Pennell's clothing was badly torn and blood-streaked, and her body was a pitiful sight when it was taken to the hospital. The doctors are using every measure to keep her alive.

A number of friends, several of them members of the Elmwood set, which has been brought into such undesirable prominence since the inquiry began into the Burdick murder, called at the hospital. Some of them saw her, but she recognized none.

"Her lot has been a hard one, and now she has come to this tragic end," said one of her friends, who has been her chum from childhood, wiping the tears from her eyes. "She was one of the nicest women I ever knew, and no one was ever a truer or a better wife. Her husband had done much for her, but he had done many things which he should not have done, and through them all she stood nobly by him."

Darkness shrouded the Burdick house at No. 101 Ashland avenue soon after the news of the death of Mr. Pennell became known, and if the story of Frederick H. Hartsell, Mrs. Burdick's attorney, who is staying in the house, is true, the wife of the murdered man retired unaware that Mr. Pennell had been killed. When a reporter for The Gazette called at the house at midnight the place was in darkness. In response to repeated ringing at the bell, Mr. Hartsell came to the door. He was asked if Mrs. Burdick could be seen.

"Mrs. Burdick has gone to bed and cannot be disturbed," he said. "What has happened now that you should want to see her?"

"I suppose you have heard that Mr. Pennell is dead?" was suggested.

"No. Is that so? Where did he die? Accident or"—

"Hasn't Mrs. Burdick heard of it?"

NEWS TO LAWYER HARTSELL.

"It is news to us. Mrs. Burdick knows nothing of it, I am certain. She retired early and no one has been to the house since 6 o'clock. Besides myself, Mrs. Burdick, her three children and her mother, Mrs. Hull, are the only persons in the house. We have been tired out and went to bed early, and up to that time none of us had heard of it. It certainly is a surprise to me. I shall not mention it to Mrs. Burdick until tomorrow morning, however."

NEW HAVEN, March 10.—Mrs. Arthur R. Pennell was Miss Carrie Lamb, daughter of Winslow Lamb of No. 1589 Chapel street, this city. Her brothers, Henry W. Lamb and Charles W. Lamb, are well known here and highly respected. The wedding of Miss Lamb and Mr. Pennell was an event in society in the winter of 1888. Mr. Pennell graduated from Yale in 1887.

BEAVER FALLS PEDDLER GETS 30-DAY SENTENCE

Makes Advances to Milwaukee Matron and Lands in Clutch of Police.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, March 10.—Mark G. Cooper of Beaver Falls, Pa., is spending 30 days in the county jail because he went into a North Milwaukee residence, attacked Mrs. John Lucksincher, then threw a lighted cigarette into some cotton the woman was using in making quilts, resulting in the destruction of the house.

Cooper is a traveling peddler, and when he went to the North Milwaukee house he found Mrs. Lucksincher alone. He made advances to her, telling her that he was traveling with his pack of dress goods for a lark, and that she might be persuaded to enjoy life with him. She rejected him, but he kept on talking to her and lighted a cigarette.

The woman says the cigarette was dropped into the cotton by design, and Cooper in his trial denied that he had been smoking, saying that the woman was trying to make trouble for him. The woman's story appeared to be the better version of the affair and now Cooper is begging tobacco from the jailers in the Bridewell.

JEROME INSPECTS METROPOLITAN'S BOOKS

NEW YORK, March 11.—(Special.)—The World this morning says: District Attorney Jerome has begun an investigation of serious charges against the Metropolitan Street Railway Company. The principal accusations against the company are that it has wrongfully paid dividends; that on June 30 it claimed a surplus of $5,468,468, when instead of a surplus there was a deficit of $18,974,338.

FEATURES OF CRIME WHICH HAS BAFFLED THE KEENEST SLEUTHS

Impenetrable Curtain of Mystery Shrouds the Killing of One of Buffalo's Prominent Citizens.

Mr. Burdick was beaten to death, yet not one of the six occupants of the house heard a sound.

Although it seems probable that Mr. Burdick's midnight visitor was a woman, it is doubted by many persons whether a woman could have dealt the death blows or could have displayed the cool nerve which characterized the crime.

After killing Mr. Burdick, the murderer stayed in the room long enough to cover the body carefully with rugs and pillows, proving that he or she had no fear of immediate discovery. A veiled woman was seen in the vicinity of the Burdick home about the time the murder is supposed to have been committed.

A strange man took a cab to a point close to the house two hours earlier, but no connection has been established between the two, and no previous or subsequent traces of them have been found.

Houses of all suspects have been ransacked from cellar to garret and without revealing anything to throw light on the murder.

ANOTHER DEATH REPORTED AS RESULT OF BAD CAR SERVICE

Pittsburgh Railways Company's Electrical System the Worst in the World.

REPORT OF AN ENGINEER

J. H. Camp Sees Little Hope of Relief for Years—Plants Inadequate—Public Taking Part in Crusade for Better Treatment.

"The electrical system used by the Pittsburgh Railways Company in the operation of its cars is manifestly the worst in the country, and it is surprising that with these facilities its service to its patrons is not even more intolerable."

J. H. Camp, an engineer of No. 424 Fourth avenue, who made an inspection of the power plants and the methods of supply used by the local traction company for the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, summed up the results of his observations in the foregoing words. The statement by General Superintendent John Murphy of the Railways company, on the preceding day that The Gazette professed to know more about the street railway business than the officers did themselves, led to securing the facts from a practical observer. Mr. Camp's experience in electrical engineering fitted him well for the investigation he had undertaken. He said:

INADEQUATE POWER PLANTS.

"The principal source of the trouble which faces the traction company lies in its inadequate power plants. Its generators are overloaded to a degree that proves almost a paradox to mechanics, and in several power houses the breaking down of one machine swamps the entire plant. It would be practically impossible for the company to put on extra cars, if they could be had.

"In none of the large cities will be found an electrical system that is so poor. In Buffalo and Cleveland, where the traffic does not yield the great profits that flow into the coffers of the local company, the service is up to the modern standard and the equipment of the roads is in keeping with present-day progress.

"During the summer park season the generators of the Rankin power house, which operates the Monongahela system, are occasionally overloaded 100 per cent, and during the morning and evening rush are not infrequently overburdened 50 per cent beyond their power. In the Twenty-first street plant every machine is kept in constant use, to meet the demand for power.

RELIEF FAR IN THE FUTURE.

"The Birmingham plant is now one of the best in the city, but the system of feed wires has been found inadequate, and the standard of 500 volts is not maintained. If sub-stations were introduced, like those built on the big roads in other cities, there would be no power wasted, and the scheme would be more economical in the end.

"There is little hope for relief inside of two years. The Brunot's Island plant will be ready in that time, but it must be remembered that traffic is increasing, and new conditions will confront the traction people. In my opinion a subway to the East End is the only real solution of the problem. The Pittsburgh Railways Company now has all these franchises, but has made no move in this respect toward fulfilling its duty as a public servant."

Complaints continue to come from all quarters regarding poor schedules and the over-crowding of cars. In making up schedules cars are frequently run through almost empty, while patrons are kept standing on sheltered corners, subjected to bad weather.

One of the most important street car stations is in the Squirrel hill district. Yesterday, after the passengers had waited five minutes for a car to take them to the city, car No. 1070 turned in from Murray avenue and dashed past Wightman street. There were seats in the car to have accommodated all who desired to get aboard, but the people were kept waiting for the next car, which came five minutes later.

Following are extracts from letters which were received by The Gazette yesterday:

MURPHY MADE A MISTAKE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

DEAR SIR—When Superintendent Murphy replies to a courteous inquiry, the purpose of which he well understood, in the manner which he did and with an attempt to make it appear that The Gazette was an ignorant and meddlesome pretender, instead of a worthy representative of the public and press of Pittsburgh, and to which, as its mouthpiece the public of Pittsburgh has long resorted and will continue to resort, it is evident that Superintendent Murphy made a mistake.

I would like to ask The Gazette whether the public has not some adequate remedy in law, such as would be likely to bring these traction magnates promptly to time. Would it be lawful and possible to pass a local law or ordinance, taking effect immediately, which should prevent the traction company and conductors from taking any more passengers aboard their cars than there were seats for at the time? This is a course which is pursued in certain localities abroad, and I believe even in some of our own cities, with excellent results. I have understood that it has been effectively tried in Boston. Of course, it would be a little hard on the public itself for a time and undoubtedly we should immediately have the laughable spectacle of even Superintendent Murphy manifesting a surprising solicitude for the suffering public having to stand on the street corners instead of in the cars, which would make all the difference in the world to the traction company. I think it would be worth trying. Candidly, I believe the public would take more kindly to this than would the traction company, and that is to my mind a good reason in itself for trying it.

The hall has not been told, either by The Gazette or papers of Pittsburgh, of the abominations which characterize the street car traffic of Pittsburgh and vicinity. At certain hours its loathsomeness and immorality, its nerve-racking and disease-breeding conditions are disgraceful to contemplate, shocking to witness, sickening to undergo and too disagreeable and repugnant to even write the repelling details thereof.

A SUBORDINATE.

NOTICE TO COUNCILMEN.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

DEAR SIR—The Gazette is certainly doing the public a great service. The noble councilmen who are put there to look after our welfare should not forget their duty. I live on North avenue, Allegheny, and have waited many times a half hour in the rain for cars on this side of the river. You have my best wishes and keep up the good work. Yours Truly, DOCTOR.

TWO SERIOUS EVILS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

DEAR SIR—Permit me to express my appreciation of the invaluable work being done by your paper in the cause of popular rights for the decent management of the street car service of this great city.

The present general superintendent of the car lines has accomplished much, and I feel that the persistent hammering of such a powerful agent as The Gazette, assisted by that versatile genius, the coon, must bring about lasting results. If, after reasonable time, the impositions are not corrected, public opinion will force the grand jury to act.

May I take the liberty of calling particular attention to a few points easy of remedy and yet of great imposition. I am a frequent patron of the Frankstown avenue line, and it is the exception for me to ride in one of those cars which does not contain at least one person, I cannot say man, in a state of beastly and disgusting intoxication; an annoyance, often by conduct and language, to every man in the car, and from which women and children are entitled to protection. A second abuse is the habit of dumping people out from through cars before they have reached their destination and compelling them to wait in the mud, rain or snow, as the case may be, and finally crowd into an already overcrowded car, not because the one they were riding in has broken down, but because it is behind time and the conductor and motorman wish to get back on their schedule.

I reside in Wilkinsburg and am a frequent victim of this imposition, not only in being compelled to make the change, but in having to wait some times 10, 20 or 30 minutes for a car for the city, which has been switched off at Point Breeze or at the East End avenue switch, or Penn avenue, and run back to Pittsburgh without any consideration for regular patrons of the road, who may be waiting further out, and in a hurry to reach the theater or trains. F. V. L.

TRAILERS FOR BUSY HOURS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

DEAR SIR—To effectively remedy the miserable street car service under the present system, there is but one easy and absolutely feasible way. That is to have every car carry a trailer during the busy hours morning and evening, and keep to schedule time. No other city in this country gives such rotten service as Pittsburghers now stand for. Yours, J. C. L.

FATAL ILLNESS OF AGED WOMAN BROUGHT ON BY EXPOSURE

"A month ago my mother was compelled to stand nearly half an hour in the wintry weather at Wood street while waiting for a car to take her home," said G. L. Bollinger of the G. L. Bollinger Company, Penn avenue, yesterday, "and the exposure she suffered was responsible for her death. She came home feeling ill and pneumonia developed. The disease was deeply seated and soon took a fatal turn. That is one instance of the seriousness of the evil which the people are trying to eliminate."

Mr. Bollinger says the service on the East Liberty Penn avenue lines has grown so bad that many persons are traveling on the Pennsylvania railroad or are obliged to drive to their places of business.

A Section of One of the So-Called South Side Parks Took a Long Slide Yesterday

Roanoke Street Closed by Tons of Dirt from a Hillside.

A heavy landslide in Roanoke street, near Brownsville avenue, South Side, occurred shortly after noon yesterday and drove the families of James Barrett, Henry Hamilton, P. Salinski and William Barrett from their homes. The recent heavy rains caused rocks and earth along the brow of Grandview park to become loose and yesterday tons slipped down and piled high in the rear of the houses, blocking the street. One large rock in its flight snapped off a lamp post. The police have closed the street to pedestrians, as it is feared another slide will occur.

MILLIONAIRE DESPOILS DEAD DAUGHTER'S HOME

Removes All Furniture from House and Claims It Was Only Loaned.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—Armed with a writ of replevin, gotten out by W. W. Harrison, the multi-millionaire, sheriff's deputies swooped down on the home of John C. Anderson, in the wealthy Walnut street section, and depleted the place of its luxurious furnishings, valued at $75,000.

Anderson is a son-in-law of Harrison. Mrs. Anderson died a week ago. When she was married in 1902 her father settled $1,000,000 on her and furnished a palatial residence. Counsel for Harrison claim that the household effects were simply loaned.

The proceedings are the sensation of society. Mr. Anderson has retained John G. Johnson and a fierce and unsavory battle will be waged in the courts.

TROOPS ARE ASKED FOR BY TOLEDO TRUCKMEN

Non-Union Men Assaulted in Shutes and Police Refuse to Interfere.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TOLEDO, O., March 10.—After four attacks had been made today on non-union teamsters, a member of the Toledo Cartage association declared that he would make application to Gov. Nash tomorrow to call out the state militia.

The trouble began at noon, when 400 strikers and sympathizers followed a truck through the principal business streets, endeavoring to pull from his place a non-union driver.

The mob also attacked Manager Turner of the Moreton Truck Company. The police then gave notice that any further provocation given the strikers would be the fault of the employers, and they would not interfere hereafter.

FIRED AT BIG LINER.

Passenger on Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse the Object of Parting Fusillade.

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Special.)—Three shots were fired at the big liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse as she was leaving her pier on her trip to Bremen. Seven hundred people were on the end of the pier and instantly there was a wild rush to get away.

A baggagemaster saw where the shots came from. Max Ferdberg of No. 110 Washington street was caught. The baggagemaster says he saw him fire the shots from a revolver, supposedly at someone on the liner. A revolver with three empty chambers was found in his pocket.

Ferdberg was fined $5. Although he stoutly protested that he neither fired the shots nor owned the weapon found in his overcoat pocket, he paid his fine.

NO SCHOOL BOARD ELECTIONS.

Ohio Supreme Court Decides That Present Members Shall Hold Over.

COLUMBUS, O., March 10.—(Special.)—There will be no election of members of boards of education in Ohio cities this spring. By a decision today the supreme court holds that such elections would be illegal and, by implication, that present members of school boards must remain in office until their successors are elected in accordance with the provisions of a new school code presumably to be enacted by the legislature next winter.

The decision came about through the filing of motions for alternative writs of mandamus by G. B. Winters and Andrew Forsythe against B. F. Fisher and other members of the Steubenville board of elections. The motion was based on the ground that there was to be an election of members of the board of education and that names should be received at the primaries for that office.

PARALYSIS STRIKES BERIAH WILKINS

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Special.)—Beriah Wilkins, owner of the Washington Post, was stricken with paralysis today in the Waldorf-Astoria. He was unconscious late tonight and unable to recognize the members of his family. The attending physicians said the life of Mr. Wilkins was trembling in the balance. Mr. Wilkins is 57 years old. He was born in Ohio and was formerly a banker in that state. He was an Ohio state senator in 1879.

POLITICS FIGURED IN THE CENTRAL BOARD

Protest Against Seating P. F. Kelly Was an Echo of the Last Election.

Politics figured in the proceedings of the central board of education last night. A protest was made against the seating of P. F. Kelly, who was re-elected from the Thirty-fourth ward. The only member supporting the protest was City Assessor George W. Gosser. Mr. Kelly claimed that the protest was inspired by Select Councilman John J. Shenkel of the Thirty-fourth ward because Kelly was active for the Citizens ticket in the recent election.

The protest was signed by W. F. McCue and John Hiland. Mr. Kelly stated that McCue was employed in the city assessor's office and was being used as a medium of attack. The credentials presented by Mr. Kelly showed he had been elected at a meeting on February 10. It was claimed that his election was irregular. President Fox discovered that Kelly had been elected again at a later meeting, and upon this fact being established, the members of the board voted to give Kelly his seat.

The credentials of J. E. Roth, from St. Clair district, were presented and accepted.

The report of Superintendent Andrews showed a total enrollment of 41,118 last month and an average daily attendance of 36,275, an increase in enrollment of 1,005 over February, 1902.

The total enrollment of the High school was 1,617 and the average attendance 1,490. The enrollment of the industrial schools was 935 and the average attendance 870.

W. H. McKelvy, the retiring president, was presented with a handsome and large music box by the members. Dr. McKelvy accepted the gift with a speech

The board indorsed an amendment to the anti-cigarette law. This provides that a penalty be attached to the sale of cigarettes to any person under 18 years of age. There is a fine of not more than $300, one-half of which goes to the informer and the other half to the sub-district school where the offense is committed.

J. E. McKelvy was retained as attorney for the board at $900 a year.

The following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That the textbook and course of instruction committee investigate the gap which seems to exist between the eighth and ninth years in the course of study."

SAVED FROM PAUPER'S GRAVE.

Body Identified Just as It Was Being Taken to Highwood Cemetery.

The timely arrival of a relative saved the body of Andrew Androws of McKeesport from a pauper's grave yesterday afternoon. He was killed by a train on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad on February 28, at Dravosburg. His body was taken to the morgue, but was not identified. Coroner McGeary ordered this body, with six others unidentified, to be taken to the Highwood cemetery yesterday afternoon and buried. While the funeral wagon was leaving the morgue George Winard of McKeesport walked into the morgue. He asked about his brother-in-law, who had been missing for 10 days, and as the description fitted one of the bodies in the wagon, which was about to start for the cemetery, Deputy Coroner George Limber had it removed and Winard immediately identified it as his relative. Androws was 35 years old, single and was employed as a machinist. He was working near Dravosburg when killed.

NUGENT HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

New Castle Man to Be Tried for Killing John B. Ferguson.

HE PLEADED NOT GUILTY

Testimony Showed That Prisoner Was Intoxicated—Wife and Sister-in-Law Deny Any Knowledge of the Shooting.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 10.—Robert Nugent was tonight remanded to jail without bail charged with the murder of John B. Ferguson, the Allegheny salesman, shot last night at New Castle Junction. Samuel Ferguson of 615 Martin street, Allegheny, brother of the murdered man, and Oswald Ferguson, the latter's eldest son, were present at the hearing tonight. Attorney J. Robert Wright of Pittsburgh conducted the prosecution and Attorney S. P. Emery of this city represented Nugent, who pleaded not guilty.

The testimony tonight showed that Nugent was so intoxicated that he had difficulty in keeping his feet and fell down several times while running from the station. But one witness was tonight called who was not before Coroner Porter today. He was John B. Campbell, Baltimore & Ohio targetman at the Junction. Campbell and Master of Engines Zimmerman were in the tower when the shot was fired, and rushed down. As they ran to Ferguson's prostrate body they met Nugent staggering away from the station.

Mrs. Josephine Lantz, Nugent's sister-in-law, tonight could not be swerved from her statement that she did not see Nugent at the junction, although the testimony of Conductor Henry Penrose, Engineer Stephen Lowers and Conductor Thomas Conners contradicted her statement. Mrs. Lantz said tonight that she never saw John Ferguson and that no one spoke to herself or Mrs. Nugent, either on the branch train or while at the Junction.

Both women were released tonight and left on a late train for Pittsburgh, accompanied by Mrs. Lantz's husband.

John B. Ferguson lived with his brother Samuel Ferguson, at 615 Martin street, Allegheny, where he was associated with his brother in the cigar business on a small scale. Previously John B. had been a florist and a landscape gardener in Oakland, but he abandoned this pursuit at the time of the separation from his wife.

Mrs. Ferguson applied for a divorce in December, 1901, alleging infidelity and naming Martha S. Delmore (nee Beach), as co-respondent. She was granted a divorce last December 20. In her testimony in the divorce proceedings Mrs. Ferguson said she married Ferguson in 1877 and that they had eight children. In March, 1901, she said she found a letter in her husband's pocket, written by him to some woman and expressing undying affection. It was this letter that procured her the divorce.

Ferguson left Allegheny on Monday, stating that he was going to Beaver on business. The news of his death at New Castle Junction was the first intimation that Ferguson was in that vicinity.

MORGAN DECLARES TREATY A PITFALL

Argues That Trouble With Colombia Means War With Holy Alliance.

DISAGREES WITH KNOX

Alabama Senator Circulates Eight Pamphlets Containing Arguments Against the Convention Now Pending.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 10.—Senator Morgan today secured the first material concession that has been made to him by the senate in connection with the Panama canal treaty. This consisted of an agreement to attach the Spooner canal act to the treaty. This change was made in compliance with a request presented by Senator Lodge during today's executive session of the senate and after the necessity for it had been discussed by Mr. Morgan and other members of the senate.

Senator Morgan contended that without this attachment the treaty was invalid. Senators Teller and Hear took the opposite view. Senator Lodge suggested that no injury could result from the attachment of the act, and unanimous consent was given to do so. It was specifically stipulated, however, that this concession did not amount to an amendment of the treaty.

Senator Morgan consumed the entire time of the remainder of the closed session discussing the canal question.

Senator Morgan forwarded to each senator copies of eight pamphlets prepared by himself on the canal question.

In the second of his pamphlets Senator Morgan declares that the French courts had no power to dissolve the old company or to appoint a liquidator to control the property of that company in Panama.

Mr. Morgan asserts that the French courts overstepped their jurisdiction in the matter of the transfer of title. He also contends that the work done on the canal by the old company belongs to Colombia and that that government is justly bound for the debts of the company, and hence that no title to the Panama Canal Company can be given by anyone but the Colombian congress.

"The United States will never expend $140,000,000 in completing that canal, and $25,000,000 for the rent of the ground, and $40,000,000 for the privilege of doing the work, and $10,000,000 for a concession from Colombia for 100 years, in all $215,000,000, and give back the canal and railroad to Colombia at the end of the lease," said Mr. Morgan.

Discussing the action of the canal company immediately after the passage of the Hepburn bill for the construction of the Nicaragua canal, Mr. Morgan says:

"Hutin was removed from his office of president and M. Bo was chosen in his place, and then the game of bluff and badger began. The French courts were set to work to back M. Bo in capturing $40,000,000 from the United States, and lent all their powers and their assumptions of jurisdiction to the summary proceedings that were intended to shove off the wreck of the New Panama Canal Company on the United States."

Senator Morgan takes issue with Attorney General Knox as to the validity of the title of the canal company. He devotes much space to the influence of the Catholic church and quotes the concordat of 1888. He asserts that the results have created a deep-seated religious fanaticism in Colombia and that this order controls Colombia in its present policies and will control it in future, "so that when we are in disagreement with Colombia, we are in conflict with the Holy Alliance."

"That's no reason you should object," Dunn said. "You're a little fat yourself."

"I know it, and wouldn't I make a fine policeman?" was Mayor Tom's rejoinder.

OLEAN DISASTER CAUSED 14 DEATHS

Fourteen Others in Hospital and Dozen More Are Less Seriously Injured.

VICTIMS ARE YOUNG MEN

Youngest Among Dead Is Lad of 13, While Boy of 9 Is Expected to Die—All but One Residents of Olean.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OLEAN, N. Y., March 10.—Fourteen charred and half-consumed bodies, lying in the undertaking establishments or in their late homes, 14 persons lying in the hospitals and a dozen or so more not so seriously injured, at their homes, is the result of the accident on the Erie railroad last night, when an oil train was wrecked and several oil cars exploded, scattering death and destruction in every direction.

Several of the patients in the hospital are seriously burned, one of them, Richard McDonald, aged 9 years, probably fatally.

The dead are:

JOHN STEMLINGER, aged 17 years.
NORMAN BROWN, aged 15.
JOHN TOBIN, aged 16.
JOHN M'CREADY, aged 13.
JOHN M'MAHON, aged 19.
WALTER SWIFT, aged 19.
MICHAEL PRISCOLL, aged 22.
WALTER JACKSON, aged 13.
WALTER ROTH, aged 16.
RICHARD CONNELL, aged 19.
HERMAN BOLIMAN, aged 15.
RAFELO QUARINTO.
CARMEN SITELIANO.
HENRY GODDEN, aged 13.

All but Godden are residents of Olean. He is from Boardmanville.

It was about 1 o'clock in the morning when Deputy Sheriff Osterhout called for volunteers to remove the dead and injured, and the gruesome work was begun. Some of the bodies were so badly burned and distorted as to be scarcely recognized. Several bodies were found in the ditch. The body of one boy was seen too close to the flames to be approached and in a short time it was burned to ashes. It is believed others were also incinerated.

When the last body had been reached the stretcher-bearers formed a procession and started down the track toward the ambulances and carriages. The crowd fell back as they approached and opened a passageway for them.

The remains of the dead arrived in the city about 3 o'clock and were taken to undertaking establishments to be prepared for burial.

It will be impossible to identify some of the dead and it is likely they will all be buried together.

TWO MEN INJURED BY TRACTION CARS

Two men were seriously injured by traction cars last night. A wagon of the Pittsburgh Waterproof Company, driven by Howard Guthrie of Carnegie, was struck by a car on Fifth avenue, near Chatham street, last night. The rear of the wagon was wrecked and Guthrie thrown out. He alighted on his head. His skull was fractured and he will probably die. John Pinchers of Glenwood was struck by a car near Brady street and received several bad scalp wounds. Both men are in Mercy hospital.

BAR RECEIPTS FOR A NEW HOSPITAL

The general committee from South Side wards appointed to obtain subscriptions to the new St. Joseph's hospital, announced last night at the Casino in Pius street that between $7,000 and $8,000 has been subscribed. Three saloonkeepers have offered to give half of one day's receipts. Large subscriptions are expected from manufacturing concerns on the South Side, as a majority of the cases to be treated at the hospital will result from accidents in these plants.

BROWN CREDITED WITH A NEW PLAN

Why Present Recorder May Not Resign to Allow Hays to Succeed Him.

MAY RIP SOME HIMSELF

If Brown Were to Discharge Department Heads and Name Hays Men Recorder-Elect Would Be Spared Trouble.

The gossip to the effect that Recorder J. O. Brown intended to resign in order to give Gov. Pennypacker the opportunity of appointing Recorder-elect W. B. Hays to fill out the unexpired term having died down, by reason of Brown's positive denials that he will resign, those who still believe that a deal of some kind is contemplated have been forced to evolve a new theory. They now say that Brown will not resign and will not be removed by the governor, but that in order to retain his relations in their places in the city service he will himself remove the department heads before his term is out and install in their places the men Hays may designate.

It is said that Brown and the Citizens leaders argue that Hays' appointees in office when Hays is inaugurated as recorder, he need not care if select council fails to confirm these men when reappointed, because it is believed they can then hold their places lawfully and conduct the business of the municipality without confirmation by select council. The department heads thus appointed by Brown before his term expires can, it is argued, discharge their subordinates without giving reasons therefor, so that when Hays comes into power he will find the city offices filled with his friends and himself not inconvenienced by troublesome charter provisions forbidding removals for political reasons.

There is no trouble now between the followers of James G. Wyman of Allegheny and the county officers. There are still four or five good appointments left in the county service, and Wyman has been told that he can put his friends into those places. Wyman is said not to be dissatisfied with the appointment of his son to a $75 clerkship in the county recorder's office, and his friends say that he would have liked it better if the boy had decided to stick to his occupation—that of an electrician.

If his health permits, Thomas S. Bigelow will go away today for a long period of rest. Mr. Bigelow has been very ill, but yesterday it was reported that he was much better. When Recorder-elect Hays went south, he said he would be gone about a week, so he is expected back at the end of this week. He may, however, postpone his departure for home and may meet Murry Verner, and possibly Mr. Bigelow, in the east. It would be comparatively easy for the three leaders to get together and agree on appointments, for Recorder Brown has turned over to them the lists of city officers and employes which he recently ordered the department heads to prepare for him.

WYMAN SLIPPED INTO TOWN AND OUT AGAIN

Allegheny's Recorder-Elect Was Here Yesterday, but Dodged Hungry Office Seekers.

James G. Wyman, recorder-elect of Allegheny, came to Pittsburgh yesterday from Cambridge Springs, where he has been staying since a few days after the election. Apparently none of the Allegheny Citizens party's political leaders saw him, for when they were asked about it last night they said they did not believe Wyman had been to town.

Wyman was reached on the telephone last night at the Hotel Rider, Cambridge Springs. He admitted he had been in Pittsburgh during the day, and said he had transacted some private business and had then returned to Cambridge Springs on the 1:50 p. m. train.

The apparent mystery that surrounded Wyman's movements while he was here yesterday is supposed to be due to his desire to avoid office seekers, for had they got wind of his coming they would have left him little time for private business. The county officers who have been distributing patronage said that Wyman had not been to see any of them on his flying trip.

Staff of the Fourteenth Inspected.

The staff officers of the Fourteenth regiment were inspected last evening by Brigade Inspector Maj. S. W. Jefferis at the Fourteenth's armory, above the Diamond market house. Those present included every staff officer except Capt. Karl Emmerling, assistant surgeon, who is absent on leave, the occasion being his wedding tour. Company D was also inspected.

THE WEATHER.

The fair weather predicted for Pittsburgh and vicinity by the Washington weather bureau yesterday failed to arrive, and the heavy rain of the past several days continued. The streets continued sloppy and damp and walking was miserable. More rain and colder weather is predicted for today, but tomorrow will be fair, if the weather man's forecast proves true. The rainfall yesterday measured .70 of an inch. The maximum temperature yesterday was 60 and the minimum 46 degrees.

JEALOUS OF THE GOEHRING BILL

Council Leaders Think They Might Lose Some of Their Powers.

VIEWS OF T. M. BROWN

The Advocates of the New Law Claim Concentration of Responsibility Would Result in Better Government.

Some of the leaders in councils are jealous of the Goehring bill creating a board of estimates to fix the annual appropriations and the taxes levied on franchises, because they think the measure will take from them some of the powers which they now possess. At the meeting of common council Monday night a communication was received from Senator W. S. Woods, asking for an expression from councils on the bill.

Instead of complying with the request the letter from Senator Woods, with a copy of the bill attached, was received and filed without debate. Thomas M. Brown of the Twentieth ward stated last night that he did not think the matter would be revived in councils. President Crawford said that members of councils could write to Senator Woods individually, giving their views on the matter, if they wished to do so.

"I have not examined the bill carefully, but from a superficial inspection of it I am not inclined to favor it," said Councilman Brown. "It is a radical, revolutionary and extraordinary measure. It is a very serious matter to vest such powers in a board of five persons."

President Crawford stated that he had not examined the bill carefully, but was inclined to favor it.

The bill provides that the board of estimates shall consist of the city recorder or mayor, the controller, director of public safety, director of public works and the solicitor, who shall have power to fix the annual appropriations and also the amount of taxes that corporations shall pay into the city treasury. Councils can reduce the appropriations and the taxes on franchises, but cannot increase them. There are also provisions in the bill which require that the appropriations shall be made prior to a certain time, and that councils shall meet daily until the appropriation ordinances are passed.

The advocates of the bill claim that if it were in force now it would prevent the present delay in passing the appropriations. A strong argument in favor of the bill is that while it may take from councils some of their powers, it will also take from them some of the responsibilities which councils as a whole and as individuals are wont to shift on each other.

It would place the entire responsibility on five persons, and it is claimed by the advocates of the system that the experience of Baltimore with it for years has shown that the concentration of responsibility has given better municipal government and a cleaner administration.

STREAMS OF MUD IN PLACE OF PURE WATER

Hill-Top Residents Subjected to Much Annoyance by Reason of Water Supply.

Jupiter Pluvius and old wells are the main sources of the water supply on the South Side hill-tops. The Chartiers Valley Water Company is again unable to keep its pipes filled, and a repetition of last summer's water famine is threatened.

The water was off eight hours yesterday. In the evening it came on, and for an hour ran out of the spigots resembling yellow molasses in its color and consistency. In order to catch some pure water last night many people placed tin pails and dishpans on the roofs of porches and invited more rain.

An answer was filed yesterday by the Chartiers Valley Water Company to the bill in equity of Mr. Oliver borough against it and the Monongahela Water Company, to compel them to charge the same water rates within the borough limits as is charged within the city of Pittsburgh, under an agreement. It is stated that at the time the alleged agreement was entered into the rates in the city were the same as is now charged in the borough; that the rates charged are reasonable, and that if the request is granted the plaintiff would furnish water at a rate that would be a loss to itself. It is also pointed out that the city looks for no return upon its investment.

OPPOSED TO SALOONS.

Remonstrances Filed Against Four Applications for Liquor Licenses.

A hundred residents of the Sixth ward, McKeesport, yesterday filed a remonstrance against the liquor license application of Nathan S. Wait of No. 1012 Evans avenue, claiming that the place is in a residence district, close to schools and churches and is not necessary. J. P. Lamp, one of the petitioners, signed his name in red ink.

The same number of Mifflin township residents say a saloon is not necessary at No. 70 May street, near Calhoun park, for which Daniel Schumann, Jr., asks a license.

A remonstrance was filed against Joseph Sullivan of No. 1126 Braddock avenue, Braddock, attacking the applicant's moral character.

Otto P. Gleason and James T. Bell are remonstrated against by 25 citizens of Oakdale who claim the place is not a necessity and that at the last election a majority of the votes cast were against licenses being granted there.

New Church for Hays Borough.

The congregation of the Holy Angels Catholic church of Hays borough has decided to erect a new church on the Risher property, to cost about $5,000. Work is to be started as soon as plans can be prepared and the contract let.

CITIZENS STILL DELAY ACTION

Crawford Fails to Confer With Lambie on Annual Appropriations.

CONTRACTS INVOLVED

Common Council Does Not Want Present Administration to Spend Any More Money Before April 1.

No steps have been taken by common council towards the appointment of a conference committee to adjust the differences with select council over the annual appropriations, beyond the passage of the resolution Monday night. President Crawford stated that he did not know whether President Lambie would agree to appoint the committee before the resolution had been considered by the select branch. To secure the consent of select council to a conference committee a special session of that body would have to be held. Mr. Lambie said yesterday that he might call a meeting for some day this week, but he was not certain.

The president of select council made a vigorous defense of his branch. He said that common council had wasted two months on the appropriation ordinances, and then demanded that the other branch pass them without considering them at all. He said that select council would not throw any obstacles in the way of the new city administration, but that the Republican majority would not assent to the arbitrary tactics adopted by the Citizens in council.

The refusal of the Citizens in common council to pass the ordinances Monday night is increasing the anxiety among the city employes, who cannot get their February pay until the ordinances are passed.

Recorder J. O. Brown yesterday morning signed the tax levy ordinance and the assessors began work at once to get the tax books ready for the city treasurer. Assessor George W. Gosser stated that the clerks would work day and night and the books would be turned over to the treasurer by March 18. This will allow but two weeks for the people to get their 5 per cent discount on September installments.

NEW COAL COMPANY.

Pittsburgh Capital Is Backing an Enterprise That Will Do Some Developing Near Freeport.

Pittsburgh capital is backing a new coal company for which a charter has been asked in Pennsylvania. This company plans to develop about 2,000 acres of coal a mile and a half above Freeport, along Buffalo creek, and the West Penn division of the Pennsylvania railroad. Of this land 1,200 acres have been bought outright from the farmers, and 800 more is under option.

Charles B. Clark, a commission man of Pittsburgh, is president, and W. E. Horner, is secretary of the new company. Other incorporators are Frank McCann, Thomas W. Welsh, cashier of the Second National bank; John C. Slack, of the Fidelity Title & Trust Company; Charles F. Willock, treasurer of the Union Fidelity & Title Company, and L. B. S. Rose.

The land was secured for about $100 the acre. The company will be capitalized at $200,000. This will give $120,000 to pay for the 1,200 acres bought and leave $80,000 for operating purposes.

President Clark stated last evening that 35 men are now at work and two openings are being made for drift mining. At a depth of 62 feet, he says, a five and one-half foot vein of genuine Freeport basin coal is to be had, and underlying this is a five-foot vein of high-grade fire clay. The company proposes to develop a fire clay industry as well as operate the coal mines. All modern methods of mining will be adopted.

QUAY IS FOR THAYER.

Allegheny Nephew of the Senator Is Candidate for Boiler Inspector.

Senator M. S. Quay is backing the candidacy of Dexter J. Thayer, an oil driller of No. 1002 Ridge avenue, Allegheny, for the position of boiler inspector in Allegheny county. Mr. Thayer is a nephew of the Pennsylvania senator by marriage. He has been an independent in politics but in the last election was an enthusiastic worker for the Citizens ticket.

Just when the board appointed to examine applicants for the job will meet is not yet definitely known. The various members had not received their formal notices from the governor yesterday, but this is expected in a day or so. The time of the examination will likely be fixed in the notice.

Burning Woman Fought Alone.

Mrs. Henrietta Euetz, 35 years old, was probably fatally burned at her home, No. 5608 Harvard street, East End, in an explosion of gas yesterday. Mrs. Euetz attempted to light the gas in the laundry and the explosion resulted. Her clothing was ignited by the flames, but these she smothered with a piece of carpet, which she afterward threw over a two-gallon can of gasoline. She then smashed a window in the cellar and crawled outside and fainted.

But if You Have Kidney, Liver or Bladder Trouble, You Will Find the Great Remedy, Swamp-Root, Just What You Need.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

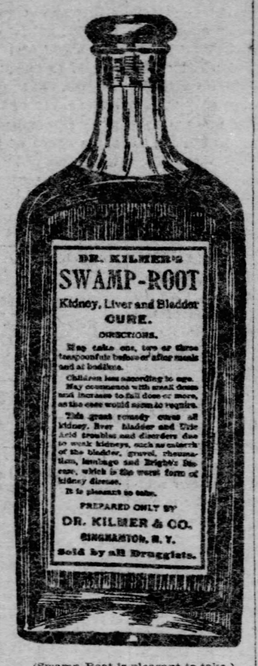
If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the famous new discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Doctors Prescribe Swamp-Root.

Gentlemen: "I have prescribed that wonderful remedy for kidney and bladder complaints, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, with most beneficial effect and know of many cures by its use. These patients had kidney trouble, as diagnosed by other physicians, and treated without benefit. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root effected a cure. I am a liberal man and accept a specific wherever I find it, in an accepted school or out of it. For desperate cases of kidney or bladder complaint under treatment with unsatisfactory results I turn to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root with most flattering results. I shall continue to prescribe it and from personal observation state that Swamp-Root has great curative properties."

L. Barstow Smith M.D.

216 9th St., Borough of Brooklyn, N. Y.



(Swamp-Root is pleasant to take.)

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble; you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford nature help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

No matter how many doctors you may have tried—no matter how much money you may have spent on other medicines, you really owe it to yourself to at least give Swamp-Root a trial. Its stanchest friends today are those who had almost given up hope of ever becoming well again.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Wednesday, March 11, 1903.

Without a dissenting vote the bill enabling the consolidation of cities and towns, when the citizens desire such amalgamation, has passed the state senate. It ought to pass the house of representatives with equal unanimity. Then when it becomes law it will be up to the people of this county to decide whether they will have the Greater Pittsburgh or not. We believe they will decide in favor by an overwhelming majority when the opportunity is given them to do so. Of course, if they do not want it there is no power in the pending act to coerce them and no one wants to use coercion. The advantages of consolidation are sufficient argument to bring the separate municipalities together, for the people who inhabit them have a fair measure of intelligence.

A disagreement between common and select councils is causing a further delay in the adoption of the appropriations and tax levy ordinances. The amount at issue is about $18,000, which is not vital one way or the other. The additional expenditure, especially that part devoted to highways and sewers, might well be allowed. It is probable, however, there is less real contention upon that point than there is desire to hold back the ordinances so it will be impossible for the present administration to make any further contracts for public work. The injustice of the whole matter is the denying to the taxpayers of the city the privilege of paying their taxes without a penalty added, and it may be hoped no exigencies of politics will ever again be allowed to interfere with the proper conduct of public business.

It is reported from Harrisburg that Allegheny county members of the house propose to oppose the consolidation enabling act. The argument urged against the bill is extremely indefinite—simply that while its terms may be satisfactory to Pittsburgh and Allegheny they are not to the boroughs and townships. There are no specifications. The same terms apply to all. There is one specific allegation and, singularly enough, it refers to Allegheny and not to the boroughs. It is that the bill is intended to rip Mr. Wyman out of office. That is absurd. Allegheny cannot be consolidated with Pittsburgh under the terms of the bill without a majority vote. Mr. Wyman cannot be disturbed unless a majority of the people of his city desire to have it so and the rule of the majority at the ballot box is not "ripping."

South Side sections, particularly the hilltops, have been suffering from a water famine for a week, despite the very copious rains. The cause is a broken main in the not over-efficient system of supply maintained in that part of the city. That system is operated by a private corporation with a monopoly and a guarantee of terms equal to those exacted by the public system in other parts of the city. There is no balancing provision for equal service. The obvious moral is that Pittsburgh should be planning an extension of the public supply to the South Side to be operative the moment the Monongahela franchise expires, and that funds should be provided therefor. It is a duty of the city to give to all of its districts adequate protection from fire and a supply of water for culinary and sanitary purposes.

To meet the unexpected development of traffic in the Pittsburgh region, the steam railroads operating in this territory have increased their rolling stock and equipment fully 50 per cent since January 1, 1900. They are not yet quite able to meet all demands, but they can begin to foresee the time when they will be giving the service the public expects. During the same period the traction interests in Pittsburgh and Allegheny have added nothing like that percentage to their facilities, though the necessities of the case and the obligation to the public is much greater than in the case of the steam roads. It is said upon competent authority that even if the Pittsburgh Railways Company had enough cars it has not enough power to operate them. So the public suffers mortal discomfort and inconvenience while the companies pay dividends upon capitalization representing free gifts from the people to the corporations.

In Kansas they have revived the old controversy over the propriety of christening vessels with champagne. A strong agitation has been started for the use of water upon the bow of the fighting ship Kansas, soon to be launched. Oddly enough, the agitation has been begun by a temperance association. Had the movement originated with the topers' society it could easily be understood on the theory that the members objected to the waste of so much good wine, or on the ground that it is a perversion of utilities to apply champagne to steel sheets. But there has been no protest from the wine drinkers. It is from the temperance unions, and they argue that such a use of champagne tends to corrupt the moral sentiment of the public—to give the evil liquid a dignity that does not belong to it. Perhaps it will be just as well to let Kansas fight this question out for itself. Kansas is queer at times. The nation need not interfere, though Carrie Nation may.

Their Business.

An effort to obtain from Superintendent Murphy of the Pittsburgh Railways Company some statement as to the intentions of the company for the improvement of its service elicited only the sarcastic declaration: "The Gazette knows more about our business than we know ourselves." The utterance was deliberate, prefaced by an inquiry whether the statement would be published exactly as made, which stipulation was accepted and has been complied with.

The tone of the declaration undoubtedly implies that the Pittsburgh Railways Company regards its business as its own affair, and that it is unwarrantable and intrusive for a newspaper to meddle with it. The management feels the same irritation that would be excited in a merchandizing or manufacturing firm if a newspaper or any other outsider should presume to comment upon the way their business was transacted and put questions to them about it. It must be admitted that there are many circumstances which have favored the growth of this sentiment. The history of street railway dealings with the city is consistent with the idea that the company has the first right to the city streets and that the public interests are subordinate to its interests as a business undertaking. A monument for this conception of its relations to the public is constantly on view in Cecil alley, where the people are denied sidewalk room in order that the company may occupy practically the entire width of the street for its tracks. At one time the cars of the company were run over the strip on the east side of Cecil alley. Now it is occupied by a row of small shops and the tracks are laid on the public thoroughfare to the virtual exclusion of the public.

It is easily intelligible that looked at from the company's point of view, and with the idea animating the management that the way it manages its business is purely its own concern, the more crowded the cars the more advantageous to the company. It owns the streets, it runs the cars and the fewer it runs for the traffic handled the larger the net profits. The company has to consider the possibility of driving people off the lines to points reached by the steam roads, and also that people will ride as little as possible. It is a case of what the traffic will bear, and as a practical rule of business policy this means only such accommodation as is required to keep the traffic. Extra cars or trains of cars at the periods of heaviest travel would simply result in moving rapidly at additional expense to the company crowds that would otherwise stand and wait until enough cars came along, without additional expense to the company. People who cannot get into the cars at six o'clock can be accommodated an hour or so later, and likewise with people going out in the evening. If the cars are too crowded between half past seven and eight, there will be at least standing room after half past eight. The time schedules and the number of cars in service appear to be calculated upon the per diem amount of traffic, and the trouble is caused by the persistent tendency of travel to congest at particular times of the day. The remedy is for the people to wait, or if they will try to force their way into the first car that comes along they must put up with the overcrowding. It is all the fault of the people. The company does not approve of the way in which tenacious persons stand on the bumpers, or hang on the outside of the car platforms. The courts are inclined to be rather strict in trying damage suits arising from injuries incurred by persons securing such accommodations, and the company would prefer that people should wait for the next car. But such a regulation would be hard to enforce. In the morning when children are going to school, and in the evening when tired and hungry workingmen accumulate at junction points, the crowds simply swarm over the cars, hanging on wherever there is a lodgment for the toes and a grip for the hands.

If the business of the Pittsburgh Railways Company is a private affair there is no help for the situation, but if it is subject to public obligations the company should be invited to consider them. City councils may have some authority left to regulate the uses of the public streets, and the subject is a very proper one for investigation. If councils will set about finding why extra cars and trains of cars cannot be run at periods of heavy travel as in other cities, they will be cordially supported by an outraged public. If there is any reason why Pittsburgh should have the meanest, poorest and most insolent street-car service in the country, it is not because Pittsburgh has not done enough and given enough to earn the right to considerate treatment.

Congressional Drinks.

Prohibition is something more than a mere theory in the capitol building at Washington, D. C. It is a statute that applies. The proposition was not introduced in congress on its own merits, but was bound up with the fate of the bill to regulate immigration through insertion by way of amendment when that measure was before the lower house. It was not germane, but went in as buncombe and remained in. The members of the house have often played to the temperance galleries in some such way, depending on the senate to accept the odium of retaining the capitol bar by striking out the amendment. This time the senators let it go at that and now the capitol is liquorless, except for such private supplies as may be found in committee rooms and in the desks of senators who continue in session. Therein is revealed where the capitol prohibition may fail of its possible beneficent results, for liquor is not actually banished from the capitol by the terms of the prohibition clause of the immigration bill. It is only the sale that is prohibited, and as a result of this, intoxicating beverages instead of being taken in public in a gentlemanly way amid reputable surroundings, may be hereafter consumed in congressional blind pigs, bootlegs and other familiar adjuncts of dry districts. Also, just as when the army canteen was abolished and dispensers of vile concoctions that are misnamed whisky and beer established themselves in the vicinity of army posts, joints and saloons may spring up around the capitol, where the nation's laws are made, to lure unwary legislators to ruin.

The new burgess of Tarentum (Pa.) has set forth that in that prohibition territory there are singing societies whose members would doubtless be sent to the workhouse for disturbing the peace should they attempt to sing in public, and they are suspected of devoting the time they ought to give to voice culture to drowning by means of the flowing bowl the grief their voiceless condition inspires. We also know of literary societies wherein literature appears only in the form of labels on bottles. Also of fishing clubs whose only association with angling appears in a plenteous supply of snake bite cure. After December 1 next the capitol may be headquarters for many such organizations. If these fears are realized the last state of congress may be worse than its first. But this may be merely borrowing trouble. The collective of wisdom that diagnosed the disease may be best able to intelligently provide the remedy. But if abolishing the congressional bar accomplishes what was achieved by the abolition of the army canteen, the next session of congress may paint a red streak across the annals of the national capitol that will outclass the gorgeousness of a western sunset. However, this is all primarily the concern of congress. In legislating on this matter congressmen legislated against their own appetites and not for their constituents. It is all up to them.

A Doubtful Advantage.

That the honestly expressed opinion of intelligent and civically useful citizens regarding the nauseatingly offensive revival of public interest in a despicable crime should be accepted by the promoters of the so-called drama current in Pittsburgh this week as good advertising is one of the lamentable evils that may be fostered through adroit appeal to ignorance and love of sensation. "If you abuse the show," say these promoters, "you will only encourage attendance upon it." Unfortunately, this is in a measure true, but the truth is of limited application and has a reverse side that it would be well to study. The disposition to debauch the stage and contaminate public morals in order to reap an immediate reward usually pays its reward promptly, but that one payment exhausts the supply. The men who write vile plays like the one current in Pittsburgh, the people who promote them and the managers who house them are taking a desperate chance that may kill the goose that lays for them the golden egg. In the promotion of any enterprise that depends upon public patronage for its encouragement and support, the possession of public confidence and esteem is essential. Any course that will forfeit this confidence makes uncertain the future success of the enterprise.

Apply this rule to the business of producing stage entertainments and what is likely to follow the outraging of public decency contained in the play founded on the crime of the Biddles. Men of respectable and worthy motives in literature and playwriting will turn their backs upon the fellow who degrades the profession of writing by attaching his name to such stuff. Producers of plays who have more respect for public opinion than love for money will ostracize and cast from further fellowship the men who seek to profit through the ignorant or sensation-hunting public. Managers of theaters who permit their public to be so outraged will lose in standing. Even the very people whom the managers hope to reach through these methods, and who do support by their presence and money such plays, will in the end turn upon the men who have helped to gratify their love of sensation and denounce and desert them.

That "the mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly small," should be remembered by every man who has a hand in the corruption of public morals.

False Economy.

There is a row in the house of representatives over the juvenile court bill that requires county commissioners to provide a separate house of detention for youthful offenders pending trial. Some rural members have worked themselves into a state of excitement over the "bill of expense" this feature would entail, have forced an amendment to the measure that is not satisfactory to the senate and now the whole matter is up to a joint conference committee.

Very short-sighted are the objecting members. The prisoners for whom juvenile courts and separate detention are asked are neither numerous nor desperate. In the rural counties it will be rare to find a dozen juvenile suspects awaiting trial. They may be safely detained in any ordinary building with bars over the windows. The additional expense over and above the cost of detention in the county jail would be merely nominal. It might possibly exceed one cent a year upon each head of a family. Even if it amounted to five cents for each citizen of the county it would be truly economical.

Those members from the rural regions who scare so easily at a dollar of taxation might take a few days off from their legislative duties and figure out what relation the expense of keeping prisoners before trial bears to the cost of keeping them after conviction. If they can compute the items accurately they will find the really costly thing is the confirmed criminal. Separate detention of youthful suspects beyond the possibility of contamination by hardened criminals will prevent more ultimate expense than it will entail immediate cost. That is, directly. Indirectly it will give to the community the useful industry of persons that are pretty sure, under other circumstances, to prey upon society. There is the whole problem in a nutshell. It is the old equation of the ounce of prevention against the pound of cure, and the attitude of the rural statesmen is in exemplification of the proverb about saving at the spigot while wasting at the bung hole.

Juvenile court systems have been well thought out by persons who have given time and study to the subject. They are not designed to entail additional expense upon localities, but to save the whole commonwealth some share of the burden of maintaining an army of confirmed criminals and to prevent some share of the plundering of society by that class of human derelicts.

Fame is an uncertain jade. James H. Blount of Georgia died the other day and but few people read the news with recognition. And yet he was once a paramount public figure.

A public play censorship that can stand for some current conditions should be ashamed hereafter to reassume its functions no matter how great the provocation.

The street car situation seems to be one of dividends and straps. The company gets the dividends and, when fortunate, the public gets a strap.

It is to be hoped that Mayor Francis will not attempt to Moulin Rouge the St. Louis exposition as a result of his successful Paris sojourn.

Possibly the street railway company might be induced to throw in an umbrella for each bumper passenger these rainy days.

March is spreading on the lamb business suspiciously thick.

SOME HORSE SENSE.

"Young man," said the old stager, affably, "did you ever drive horses much? Well, it's a good thing for a youngster to practice. Maybe it will not be of much direct use to him, because he will not need it unless he takes to cab or truck driving to earn a living. I don't regard it as a valuable accomplishment in that way, but in its educational features. Every wide-awake young man is ambitious to be the head of some concern or other, and every one of them should be prepared for the duties of such a place.

"I know a hundred bosses in this town who know how to ride horseback and hold the reins in one hand. They apply the method in their business. When they're driving hardest they pull one line only. Their young men have no means of knowing they are doing well, going the right course, except that the line is not pulled. When they go wrong they are brought up, sharp.

"Now, a skillful and intelligent driver, with a spirited team, keeps a firm hold with both hands and uses both lines. He guides perfectly. In business he applies the same principle in handling men. Does one go wrong, he pulls gently on the right line. Does he go right, he pulls the other line to let him know that he has his eye on the road, with full knowledge of the route.

"Enigmatic, is it? Well, the application is plain. The majority of men who control many others are never heard from except when censure is needed. The exceptionally successful man, the skillful driver, is oftenest heard from when there is something to be commended. He gives double guidance and inspires confidence that leads to efficiency. He gives encouragement in well-doing, and when one of his flock does stray the restraining hand is not resented. The unfortunate knows it is no spirit of fault-finding that has prompted the 'kick.' The man who gives no guidance except when there is a 'kick' coming discourages his most faithful employes and helps them little in finding the right way.

"I worked for a boss of that kind once. He was afraid to commend the work of any man lest he should take advantage of the good opinion to ask for more pay. He never overlooked a mistake, however, and he had a vigorous way of pulling the left hand line that made the beast of burden sore all over and careless of results. A few very philosophical fellows hammered away under his management and kept the business going. They understood the man and could not help being faithful. Yet a few generous words of commendation for the particularly good work done in that shop would have galvanized it into an unknown enthusiasm.

"Men are differently constituted, of course, and so they behave differently. There is a lot in training, though. I think driving horses gives a young man an insight into many things. The art steadies the hand, clears the head and hardens the muscles. Horses have much the same dispositions as men, and the crafty driver finds the way to coax and spur at the same time and to treat each beast differently from the other.

"You say rifle shooting is good to give a man a steady hand and a quick, sure eye. Yes, it is good in its way, but genuine marksmen, like poets, are born, not made. Practice gives a certain facility. Hunting big game broadens any man's vision of things. The man who learns to turn somersaults and handsprings never loses his head in an emergency. His heart doesn't stop beating when the unexpected happens. You can teach a boy a great many abstract truths and he will never recall a single one of them if he happens to be sliding down a roof with a 40-foot fall looming before him. But if a boy gets a fair share of horse sense by association, some big woods lore, a knowledge of swimming in the river and the art of turning a somersault, the faster things come his way the better he will think. Nine times out of ten, at least, he will do the right thing at the right time, when the unexpected happens, and when the house falls, if anybody escapes to tell the tale it will be the chap who learned to tumble and take his bumps as they were due."

ERASMUS WILSON.

O, the trolley,
The jolly, jolly trolley—
The trolley jammed full
The trolley crammed full—
O, golly!
So very, very jolly
Is the trol lol loly.
—T. Rolly.

+ + + +

There now, that will do. Enough is enough of anything—too much, sometimes. The first thing this trolley boy-poet knows he will be helping to crowd asylums with good people afflicted with insanity, as did Mark Twain with those famous lines beginning, "Punch, brother, punch, punch with care; punch in the presence of the passengare."

While it is good to be gay and jolly, to be too gay, or to get jolly-jolly, is different.

Hence the necessity, or at least the wisdom, of the saying: Enough is enough, be it ever so jolly.

+ + + +

The poor trolley is catching it hot and heavy all around, just as though it were a stage coach with always room for one more.

Some years ago the bob-tailed, mule-motor was the thing. It was up to date, handy, obliging and trustful. It carried no conductor to grab your money, but permitted—even compelled—you to be your own conductor.

There was one car to one mule, and they got along real well. Maybe a little slow going uphill, but the jing-jing-jingle of the dear little bell attached to the mule's left lappel jollied you up grade, while its merry, merry tin-tin abulations and riotous rat-tat-tattle as the prancing motor sped down grade caused a sensation like unto that you had experienced when sleigh riding—not exactly the same, but suggestive.

Instead of cold, dank, slatted floors, you were given hay or straw to wrap your feet up, instead of bluffing you with a caricature of a stove or scorching the back of your legs with an electrically heated gas pipe.

And yet that palatial bob-tailed car, or mulomobile, was ridiculed from Dan to Beersheba, and abused most scandalously.

+ + + +

Why, then, should the trolley feel hurt, or ashamed, or crushed? Rather let it continue to swell with pride and seething masses of humanity, turn its deaf ear to cranks and its bomb-proof towards kickers, and skip along with its clang and clatter all unmindful of the jibes and jabs of a rapacious public—rapacious as to what it calls comfort.

The truth to tell, and it may as well be told, for it will out, anyway, this same growling, grumbling, kicking public never before has had such complete, convenient and reliable railway service. It forgets the ting-a-ling mulomobile, with its bus-line connections, and the two-hoss car with open front and no fire. These came along every five minutes, or so, if on time, or didn't jump the track.

Track-jumping was one of the more common pastimes of these flyers, in which the traveling public not only took a deep personal interest, but often gave a helping hand. Some there were who refused to countenance such conduct by helping to replace the car on the tracks, but others being in a hurry to get home, or somewhere, would back up to a side or end, grab hold with both hands and lift until their throbbing veins would swell and their eyes pouch out and glow like fiery orbs.

Should victory not come with the first tug of war, the conductor would rally a few more sturdy fellows, shoo the women and the weaklings into the other end of the car, and then with a hearty heave-ho altogether, there you were. And the public was none the worse for it physically, but morally—well, that is neither here nor there, for the company assumed no moral responsibilities whatsoever. If you had no more respect for yourself, nor regard for your hereafter, than to cussanswear, look ugly and feel nasty, you could do so, but at your own cost and peril.

When a car jumps the track in these latter days, you simply sit still and wait and think, or whistle—anything to ease your mind and pass the time, while you wait. This is far more comfortable than bumping over cobbles for a square in an effort to bump on to the track again.

And yet a mighty howl goes up against the trolley and the jolly rolly-poly syndicate.

+ + + +

But now, since you come to think about it, isn't the street car service a whole lot better than it was only a few years ago? The crowds that go by trolley now could carry the old mulomobiles and two-hoss affairs with greater ease than they could carry the crowds.

Then, why jaw and yammer and fuss about it? There are more cars now than property owners along the lines want, and the companies are working their car hospitals to the limit in order to keep a full quota on the go.

And thus there are new cars—fine big ones, elaborately finished. Also others newly painted and decorated, doubly strapped and guaranteed airtight in close weather, and open at every pore when the air is crisp. Crisp air is different from hot air. Bear this in mind and it may prove a great help to you in your explorations into the mysterious science of street car ventilation.

One of the strong points in favor of crisp air is that it has a retarding influence on the incubation of germs, besides having a tendency to stunt those not fully developed.

+ + + +

What is the use working yourself into a fitful fever, or getting red-headed over what you wrathfully term the trolley nuisance? No one doubts your stories about having your feet tramped off, your body crushed into a shapeless mass and your shoulders pulled out of joint hanging to a strap. But hadn't you a strap all to yourself? It was not always so. Try and be thankful for small favors and you will have a greater capacity for the enjoyment of the larger ones to come.

The trolley simply winks the other eye and quietly wonders what you are going to do about it. You know you will be burned if you walk into the fire, or get wet if you rush into the river. Then, O man! O woman! knowest thou not, individually and collectively, what lieth in wait for thee if thou crowdeth into an overfull trolley?

Don't blame the trolley, for it is a helpless, innocent thing in the hands of a powerful syndicate, which syndicate is not operating street cars for fun, but for profit, and when it scents a profit in more cars there will be more cars. It goes not by sight or sound, but by scent—scent per cent, as one might say, if he dared.

The better way is to laugh it off and thus save a lot of bad feeling on your part. You know how very silly a thing it is to turn and kick a solid wall because you happened to bump against it. You may have done something of the sort and can recall the feeling you experienced afterward.

No doubt you suffer some, but you get to where you are going all right. And when the car is loaded tight and snug you may only know you have a pair of feet and legs somewhere in the mix. But don't worry about this, for, like little Bopeep's sheep, they'll come wagging along as you crowd your way out of the human pack.

The situation is not altogether pleasant for those who feel that they must travel during rush hours, but they should look the proposition squarely in the face, and then they will see at once that the public has simply overmatched the trolley, and takes particular delight in climbing all over it. That is a way the public has of treating a good thing as well as one that is bad; only it is apt to impose more harshly on a good thing just because it is good.

Some imagine that the trolley is becoming ugly and saucy, and is saying, or just as good as saying, that if they don't like it they don't have to ride.

It does not say that exactly, but merely observes that it will do its very best to accommodate them, taking on overloads and submitting to all sorts of abuse, never refusing to let another get on, or try to get on.

The next time you feel like jumping on to the overcrowded trolley, don't be too quick, but look the situation over calmly, wait a while, and you may be agreeably surprised by the results following your exercise of a little common sense. The chances are that you will be rewarded by a kinder feeling towards folks and their doings, and you may also get a comfortable seat, all for not being too hasty.

It Reaches All.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 10.—When, this afternoon, the first shovelful of earth was turned for the foundation of a new building for the College of the City of New York many an old New Yorker groaned in spirit. This shovelful of earth meant the uprooting of college traditions which have been accumulating through three or four generations. The old buildings are inconvenient, cramped for space, in the midst of the nerve-tearing hurly-burly of twentieth century commerce and industry, and altogether in inharmonious environment. But in that old ivy-clad, red brick pile scores of the prominent men of this city acquired intimacy with the classics and the higher branches of mathematics and love to refer to it affectionately as their alma mater. When the imposing collection of buildings which will form the new College of the City of New York on the heights beyond Morningside come into use the "old boys" feel that they will lose many of their cherished memories and that the college will not be what it was. The present buildings at Lexington avenue and Twenty-third street have been in use for half a century. The first mayor of Greater New York, Robert J. Van Wyck, was graduated from the college, and as a boy dashed in and out of the big doorways of the old building. Many other men of affirs of this day were his college companions. The first class entered in January, 1849, with Horace Webster as president. It was and is free to graduates from the public schools of this city and has turned out some excellent human material in its time. Now it is to go to the Bluff on the West Side, between One Hundred and Thirty-eighth and One Hundred and Fortieth streets, facing St. Nicholas avenue. What will become of the old building? No one knows at present. Perhaps it will be turned into a police station or an engine house.

Cobblestones Suited the Chinese.

Chinatown was asphalted a few months ago. The denizens do not like it. I heard a Chinaman this afternoon complaining that the roadway is too smooth. It has taken away the homelike cobblestones and puddles, and, moreover, strangers go marching through Doyers street nowadays who never were seen there in the old days. Your New York Mongolian is a firm believer in "Chinatown for the Chinese."

"Nym Crinkle" Writes "Finis."

The death today of A. C. Wheeler, so well known under his pen name of "Nym Crinkle," removes another one of the brilliant galaxy of critics and descriptive writers which was famous 20 years ago. It would be idle to repeat the names of all the bright men of that circle who have gone to the grave in the last few years, but certainly none was more talented in his own particular line than Wheeler. He made a great deal of money with his pen and he enjoyed life to the end. He was the only man I ever knew who habitually took champagne with his breakfast.

Western Sleuths in New York.

It appears that New York city is overrun by western detectives. They are harmless-looking chaps, who wear ordinary clothes, hats of the latest block and trousers decorously creased. They may have Colts revolvers in their hip pockets and be handy with the bowie-knife and the sawed-off rifle, but those engines of evil are not in evidence. What is apparent, however, is that they can get evidence against gambling houses where New York policemen fail and it may be supposed that the average Tammany "fly cop" does not like them any more on that account.

A Distasteful Task.

A studious looking, chunky man, with a great deal of white hair and in clothes of clerical cut, was one of the most eager of the visitors at the tax office today who sought to have their taxes reduced. He was David Belasco, the playwright. The law requires personal attendance of those who find fault with their assessments, or Mr. Belasco probably would have sent a secretary or press agent to do the business. As it was, he sat fuming on the bench in line with his fellow citizens waiting for his chance at a tax clerk, and it was easy to believe his fervent assertion as he came out at last into the free air of Broadway that he would rather produce a play than swear off taxes. The whole sordid business grated on his sensitive soul—as it does on many souls that are not over-sensitive.

'Twas the Policeman's Business.

When a policeman in this city asks you an official question it is the part of wisdom to answer him. An electrician was zigzagging home in Harlem about 2 o'clock this morning with a box under his arm, when a policeman asked him what he was carrying. The electrician straightened up with indignation as he suspected in a hazy way that the officer referred to what in the vernacular is known as his "load." So he told the policeman to mind his own business. Then the electrician was arrested, and this afternoon he paid a fine of $3. He had a zither in the box, which he had bought in a saloon and had been spending a few harmonious and humid hours listening to the music. If he had told the policeman all this he would have saved $3 and spent the remaining hours of the morning in his own bed.

There They Go Again.

A "men's athletic club for women" is the somewhat paradoxical organization that will spring into being in New York. It simply means that an athletic club for women arranged on the plan of a men's club is to be established with Mrs. John Jacob Astor and Mrs. J. Borden Harriman as the prime movers. It is possible that the old Knickerbocker Athletic club at Madison avenue and Forty-sixth street will be obtained.

Society Women in Retreat.

A number of society women of this city are in retreat at the convent of the Sacred Heart, Manhattanville. It is their custom every year and the Lenten period is naturally the time chosen. Half a dozen smartly gowned Roman Catholic women drove up to the convent in automobiles and went inside to spend three days in silence and self-examination.

Schwab's Coming Causes a Stir.

The fact that Charles M. Schwab will be home next week has caused quite a stir in Wall street and in the corridors of the Waldorf-Astoria. The genial Pittsburgher is a great favorite around the big hotel, where he often spends an evening when in town. No one ever gets anything out of him about business at such times, but he is always willing to talk about anything else. Like Marshall Wilder, he is looked on as one of the institutions of the place, and every clerk and manager and page about the hotel is on friendly terms with him. Down in Wall street they are waiting for developments. It is fair to assume that a great many humors will be settled once and for all when the president of the big steel corporation gets down to work again. He intends to sail from Cherbourg on the Kronprinz Wilhelm tomorrow.

Political Drift.

Says the Washington Star (Ind. Rep.). "The New York Tribune inquires: 'What does Mr. Bryan think of the return of Mr. Gorman to power in the Democratic party?' This calls for an explanation. So far as Mr. Bryan's interests are concerned Mr. Gorman has returned to only a small amount of power. As leader of the minority in the senate he will have but a limited opportunity to inflict any injury upon Mr. Bryan. The fight within the party against Bryanism will not be made in the senate, nor yet in the house, but in the state organizations over the question of control of delegations to the national convention."

Referring to the extra session of the senate, the Philadelphia Record (Dem.) says: "There is a great variance between the several rumors current at Washington with regard to the course of action agreed upon by the Democratic minority of the senate in the matter of the Colombian and Cuban treaties. Whatever may be the fact, no agreement would be in accord with public sentiment in the United States that would have the effect of hindering or delaying either reciprocity with Cuba or the cutting of a canal through the isthmus. An overwhelming majority of the American people is determined that an interoceanic waterway shall be built; and those who still oppose the undertaking on the ground of its probable inutility constitute a negligible minority. A canal is desired for its possible strategic value in war and as a regulator of transcontinental freight rates in times of peace; and a political party that should stand in the way of a realization of the wish of a practically unanimous nation would be sure to invite popular condemnation."

Indiana's double representation in congress is thus described by the Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.): "Indiana is represented in the lower house of congress by 13 congressmen, and there are also in that body just 13 men who at one time or another lived in the state. The state is inclined to feel that it has a great deal of power in congress, because there is not one of the second 13 that does not take a deeper interest in everything that concerns Indiana than if he had never lived in the state. The second 13 are as follows: Messrs. Cannon, Grosvenor, Hull, Hitt, Alexander, Smith of Illinois, Green, Heatwole, Fordney, Graff, Williams of Illinois, Jett and Dougherty. The following five senators also formerly lived in Indiana: Clapp, Spooner, Patterson, Rawlins and Burton."

Senator Gorman's return to leadership excites the following comment from the Philadelphia Press (Rep.): "Whether the useful tuition and tutelage of defeat and seclusion have taught Senator Gorman all this remains to be seen, now that he returns to the senate after four years. His party needs a new policy as much as it needs a new leader. Will Senator Gorman be wise enough to provide one? The coming week will show. Four years ago he was unwise enough to obstruct the ratification of the treaty of Paris, and fell into an error which even Mr. Bryan was shrewd enough to avoid. Has Senator Gorman learned from experience and defeat? Two treaties are before the senate. Both are national. Neither is partisan. Any true American administration, Republican or Democratic, would negotiate both. Cass or Seward, Marcy or Blaine, Fish or Olney would have been proud to secure either the Cuban or the Colombian treaty. Are those two keen, sharp eyes of Senator Gorman's wide enough apart to know this and to act upon it? Has he the high leadership which knows and understands that men and parties win by being greater than parties and wiser than partisanship?"

To the Philadelphia Record (Dem.) it appears that Gorman has great opportunities. It says: "The minority has been greatly strengthened by the few new senators of Democratic faith, and it is reasonable to look for it to take advantage of its extraordinary opportunities to place the Republicans on the defensive. It is within the power of Senator Gorman as the director of a distinct Democratic policy to make the Democracy and the country forget that the sound principles of the party have been in eclipse and to arouse the nation to a sense of the increasing danger of the unholy alliance of the Republican organization. Whether the Democracy is to be congratulated depends. Statesmanship in the broad sense is required of Mr. Gorman. Before the close of another session of congress certain issues should bring together all Democrats for a war on the mischievous and selfish agencies which have impaired the material prosperity of the great body of the people."

Diaz As Arbitrator.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

If the Central American peoples allow President Diaz to adjust their disputes for them, and abide by the decisions which he renders, there will be peace and prosperity in their land. Mexico's executive is the one man produced by the Latin-American region since the days of Bolivar who knows the limitations of the character of his race, and who can supply the things which are lacking in them. He has given Mexico a model government. Her credit stands high in the money markets of the world. She is growing rapidly in population and wealth, and when she makes the change to the gold standard, which is in sight, she will take her place among the most progressive of the world's states. Gen. Diaz is the man to restore order and bring stability and progress to Central America.

STATEMENT BY KEYSTONE MEN

Will Notify Contract Holders That They Can Get Back Most of Their Money.

NOW BEING PREPARED

Date for Monthly Payments Extended Until After the Hearing. Charles Kahn Gone to New York to Be Married.

Officers of the Keystone Home Development Company decided yesterday afternoon to make a statement to all persons who hold contracts with them. This step was taken on the advice of their attorneys. It will be made late this afternoon or early tomorrow morning. The work of preparing the document began yesterday. It will be mailed to all contract holders of the concern before the preliminary hearing on Friday morning is held. All contract holders who are dissatisfied with their investment will be notified that they may have what money they have paid into the home fund by calling at the offices of the company on a certain date.

The money paid for the original contracts will not be refunded unless the court so orders. This money, it was explained, has been spent, and the investors will be out this amount on every contract they purchased.

The offices of the Keystone Home Development Company in the Lewis block were opened yesterday morning and remained open until 5 o'clock last night. The cashier of the Audit Company of Pittsburgh and several clerks from that company occupied the cashier's office. W. E. Cooper, secretary of the concern, and J. J. Rumsey and W. F. Coole, agents, were also there.

MANY ANXIOUS INQUIRERS.

The offices were well filled with people all day, and up until closing time persons went to inquire about their contracts. The monthly payments, the last day for receiving which was yesterday, have not all been paid in. Contract holders were told yesterday that no money would be received until after the affair had been cleared up, but that their contracts would hold good if the money was paid on or before the 10th of the month.

Charles Kahn went to New York on Monday night to meet his bride, who is coming from Europe, and they will be married today.

The charter for the Keystone Home Development Company was not granted at Harrisburg yesterday. Attorney A. E. Anderson went to the state capital early yesterday morning to intercede for his clients, but the granting of a charter was postponed until the outcome of the case was known here.

Postoffice Inspector Frank O'Brien yesterday was notified to investigate the concern and ascertain if they have been using the mails for advertising their business.

When seen yesterday in the offices of the Keystone Home Development Company, W. E. Cooper said:

"It is upon the advice of our attorneys that we have opened our offices today. We are transacting no business, as you see, but have had quite a few callers during the day. Some of the people, of course, make demands for their money, while others do not. In our statement, which will be made before the hearing, we will offer to refund every dollar in the home fund to the contract holders.

"In some cases we have refunded even the $5 for which the contract was sold, but we do not expect to have to do so in the present cases. We want to act perfectly fair, and the investors will be satisfied if we offer them back their home fund money. The Audit Company of Pittsburgh now has all the money of the home fund, and it will be ready to pay it out at any time on our order. We have a three months' contract with this company.

"I cannot tell you just how much money is in the home fund, for I do not know. Mr. Hopkins has all that information, as he received a regular weekly statement from the Audit company as to finances."

There was some talk among contract holders yesterday of attaching the money in the care of the Audit Company of Pittsburgh. This cannot be done, however, until after the preliminary hearing before Magistrate McKenna next Friday morning. It is expected then that a number of contract holders will take action to recover the money they paid in.

A BROTH OF A BOY WILL BE THE DANDY ADJUTANT

THOMAS QUINN.

He will be the adjutant general for the big parade of the Irish on next St. Patrick's day. At one time he was one of the Pittsburgh league team's catchers and, of course, he was an idol then.

PERSONALS

"At the present time it is difficult to tell just how long the extra session of the senate will continue," said United States Senator M. E. Clapp of Minnesota, who was last night returning from Washington to his home in St. Paul on account of the illness of his daughter. "We have just two measures before us which we must pass or reject. The Panama canal bill will probably be the harder. There are so many amendments to it. Senator Morgan has just stated that for each of 10 amendments to the measure he will offer a speech, but to save time he has had all these speeches printed and will have copies sent around with all the amendments. The Cuban reciprocity measure will also consume a good deal of time and there is no telling when we may be able to adjourn."

Charles Perkins, a full-blood Indian, dressed in the uniform of a United States cavalry soldier, attracted attention among travelers at the Union station last night. Perkins is en route from Washington, D. C., where he enlisted in the service again, to Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., to report for duty.

E. J. Buffington, president of the Illinois Steel Company, a subsidiary concern of the United States Steel Corporation, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh in consultation with President W. E. Corey of the Carnegie Steel Company. He left for Chicago last night.

The following Pittsburghers went to New York last night: President Harry C. Pulliam of the National Baseball league, Select Councilman James W. Piatt, Alderman James V. McMesters and John Harris.

Attorney William J. Brennen and Francis J. Torrance went to Philadelphia on business last night.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

The following visitors from nearby towns were registered at the leading downtown hotels last night:

RIFLED POUCH FOUND.

Mail Bag Sent to Cleveland from Pittsburgh Didn't Reach Destination.

CLEVELAND, O., March 10.—(Special.)—A canvas mail pouch and almost a bushel of rifled letters and packages were discovered Tuesday by workmen in the fire box of the Central armory boiler room. The pouch had been reported as missing and an investigation was in progress when it was found. It was a transfer pouch and doubtless was stolen from a truck at the Union depot, as it was at no time in the hands of the city postoffice officials.

The report shows that the pouch came west from Pittsburgh via the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, February 24, and was lost at this point while en route to Cincinnati.

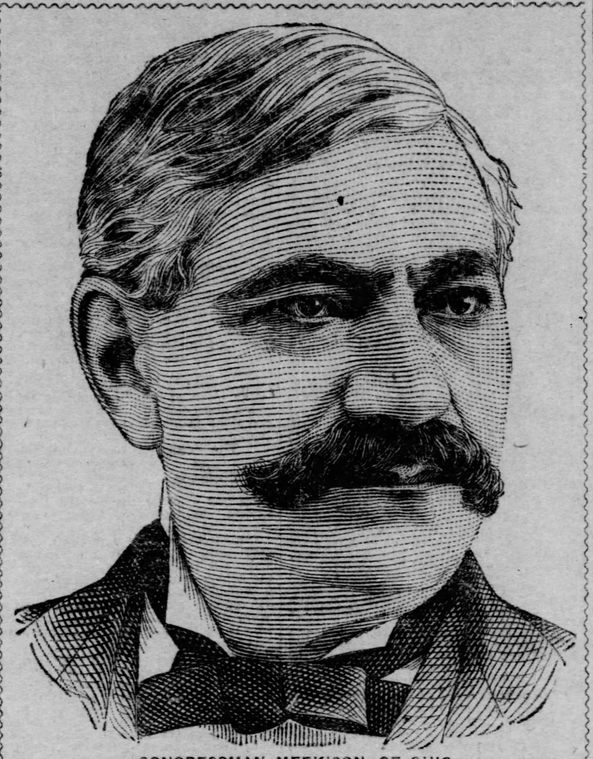
FOR THIRTY YEARS

Congressman Meekison Suffered With Catarrh—Read His Indorsement of Pe-ru-na.



CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peruna came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison, ex-Member of Congress.

THE season of catching cold is upon us. The cough and the sneeze and nasal twang are to be heard on every hand. The origin of chronic catarrh, the most common and dreadful of diseases, is a cold.

This is the way the chronic catarrh generally begins: A person catches cold, which hangs on longer than usual. The cold generally starts in the head and throat. Then follows sensitiveness of the air passages which incline one to catch cold very easily. At last the person has a cold all the while seemingly, more or less discharge from the nose, hawking, spitting, frequent clearing of the throat, nostrils stopped up, full feeling in the head, and sore, inflamed throat.

The best time to treat catarrh is at the very beginning. A bottle of Peruna properly used never fails to cure a common cold, thus preventing chronic catarrh.

While many people have been cured of chronic catarrh by a single bottle of Peruna, yet, as a rule, when the catarrh becomes thoroughly fixed more than one bottle is necessary to complete a cure. Peruna has cured cases innumerable of catarrh of twenty years' standing. It is the best, if not the only internal remedy for chronic catarrh in existence.

But prevention is far better than cure. Every person subject to catching cold should take Peruna at once at the slightest symptom of cold or sore throat at this season of the year and thus prevent what is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh.

Mrs. A. Snedeker.

Mrs. A. Snedeker, Cartersville, Ga., writes:

"I saw that your catarrh remedy, Peruna, was doing others so much good, that I thought I would try it and see what it would do for me. My case is an old one and I have none of the acute symptoms now, because I have had the disease so long that I had none of the aches and pains, but a general rundown condition of the whole body—sore nose and throat and stomach. I had a good appetite but my food did not nourish my system. I had come down from 140 to about 75 pounds in weight. I now feel that I am well of all my troubles."—Mrs. A. Snedeker.

Send for free book on catarrh, entitled "Winter Catarrh," by Dr. Hartman. "Health and Beauty," sent free to women only.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Flexibility—Comfort

The worst thing about breaking in a new pair of shoes is the hard, stiff feeling of the soles. They are made of stiff, unyielding leather, and every step you take is an effort to make this leather bend.

You notice instantly a great difference when you put on a pair of "Dorothy Dodd" shoes. They are specially constructed with the object of securing extreme flexibility in the inner sole. The foot feels as if it rested on a soft cushion instead of on a hard leather bottom.

The "Dorothy Dodd" combines all these minor points, which count for a great deal if you value comfort and care to escape fatigue.

A WEDDING of peculiar interest to many Pittsburgh people took place last evening at 7:30 o'clock, in Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, East End. The bride was Miss Johanna Montgomery Cuthbert, one of the sweetest singers ever heard in Calvary church, who has been, for some time past, a member of the church choir. The bridegroom, Alfred Martin, is well known in musical circles throughout the two cities. The fine old church was crowded, despite the forbidding weather, by the personal friends of the bride and bridegroom, as well as a large number of Calvary parishioners who were interested in the marriage of one of their own number.

Although the wedding was large, it was simply conducted, and the bridal couple was unattended. The bride was given away by her brother, John Cuthbert of Collins avenue, in whose name the wedding invitations were issued, and with whom Miss Cuthbert has been making her home. Another brother, the Rev. Richard Bruce Cuthbert, of Somerset, Pa., performed the ceremony. He was assisted by the Rev. Dr. McIlvain, rector of Calvary church.

The church was simply but beautifully decorated. White carnations with masses of ferns were tastefully arranged over the chancel rail and communion table. The bride wore a handsome wedding gown and carried a shower bouquet of violets.

Following the ceremony the members of the two families were present at a daintily appointed supper, served at the Cuthbert home, immediately after which Mr. and Mrs. Martin left for an extended trip. Cards issued with the invitations announced at home days after May 1, at No. 920 Cherokee street, East End.

Mrs. Monro's Card Party.

One of the enjoyable social events of yesterday afternoon was the card party which Mrs. W. L. Monro gave at her home in Wallingford street in honor of Mrs. Richard Clarke Porter. The affair was a violet euchre, bunches of the dainty little blossoms being attached to each score card.

Mrs. Monro also entertained in the evening for Mrs. Porter. The decorations on both occasions were exceedingly pretty. The mantels in the rooms through which the tables were placed were banked in white carnations and ferns. Yellow jonquils and tulips contributed to the decorations. The chandeliers in each room were entwined with green.

Six-hand euchre was the game played both afternoon and evening at the 12 tables. Six beautiful prizes were awarded in the afternoon and eight in the evening.

Mrs. Porter, the guest of honor, is a resident of Silver City, N. M., and is visiting her sister, Mrs. John P. Mahan, in Fifth avenue. She will be the honor guest at many entertainments during her stay in the city.

Will Wed Today.

Several Lenten weddings will take place today. One of them will be that of Miss Lucille Bryle Dawson of Beaver and Thomas L. McCreery, whose engagement was announced a short time ago. The ceremony will be performed at 6:30 and, owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, it will be very quiet.

Miss Annie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Jones, will be married today to B. L. Jones of Canonsburg, Pa., at the home of the bride in South Thirteenth street.

The bride at another of today's weddings will be Miss Mabel Mayer of Oil City, and the bridegroom W. I. Mayer of Pittsburgh. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's father by Rabbi Levy of Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Mayer will make their home in Bidwell street, Allegheny, after a short southern trip.

Heart Club Entertained.

Miss Odo Colley entertained the members of the Heart club on Monday evening at her home in Race street, Allegheny. WOMEN'S CLUBS

AN important meeting of the Wimodausis club was held yesterday afternoon in Syria temple, important for the fact that at that time the club took its first step in the direction of general civic interest. Large committees of the members of the club were appointed by the president, Mrs. Samuel Miller, to co-operate with the Permanent Civic committee and the Civic Club of Allegheny in their work in the various directions of popular civic interest. The Wimodausis club has a membership of over 340—women who are either wives, daughters, mothers or sisters of members of the Masonic order. Syria temple is its present home, until their project for a women's club house has materialized.

At the meeting yesterday the revised form of the constitution and by-laws was read, and a special meeting will be called soon for the purpose of taking action upon it. The committees announced include the following:

The Wimodausis club, with other federated clubs in Pennsylvania, sent letters to Harrisburg indorsing the proposed bills for the juvenile court, traveling libraries and tenement houses.

Education in Art and Letters.

Some very attractive plans of work were presented at the meeting of the educational department of the civic club yesterday morning in the Civic club rooms in the McClintock building. The chairman, Mrs. J. J. Covert, presided and reports of the several sub-committees were presented. Special interest is being taken in the work of school decoration and art, the chairman of this sub-committee including Mrs. William Macrum for Pittsburgh and Mrs. John Cowley for Allegheny.

The Civic club several years ago was presented with a collection of pictures and casts, 60 in number, which have been loaned from time to time to the different schools asking for it. The collection has sometimes been divided, part going to one school and part to another. The collection needs to be replenished, some of the poorer pictures should be weeded out and new and interesting ones added. This is the work which the committee on school decoration and art has in charge. It does not expect, however, to make many changes until after the first of April, and the conclusion of the spring vacation.

Mrs. E. L. Mattern is chairman of the committee on school lectures. This committee expects to be ready to inaugurate a series of lectures about April 11, when the schools shall have opened after the vacation. The plan to be followed will be similar to the university extension course, and the lectures are for the parents of the school children in the ward. Some interesting subjects and speakers will be announced later.

The educational department only expects to start its work this spring, but by fall hopes to be ready for active work throughout the fall and winter.

Travelers in Mexico.

Mexico with its peculiar foreign customs, its rich romantic history and its quaint and fantastic life, has fascinated the members of the Travelers' club this season to such an extent that the subject of study next year will be Spain, which conquered Mexico and whose history in North America has been almost identically that of Mexico in the last few centuries.

The Travelers' club yesterday conducted a rather hastily arranged program, consisting largely of papers deferred from earlier meetings. The club has been having a series of illustrated lectures on Mexico which broke up the program to a large extent, and some papers presented yesterday were to have been given several weeks ago, in the absence of Mrs. James R. Darragh, who is in Atlantic City, Mrs. B. F. Veach was chairman of the program. It was opened by Miss Carrie Phillips with a paper on "The Revolution of 1810, with Sketches of Hidalgo." Mrs. Alfred Clark gave a deferred talk on "Mexico as the Cradle of Man's Primitive Condition," and with a leap from the scientific to the present and practical, Mrs. Aaron B. West described "Ranch Life in Mexico." Mrs. Clark also told some of her interesting experiences when traveling in Mexico. The program was concluded by Mrs. John Hamilton, who told of "Mexican Women, Their Employment and Treatment."

The Travelers' club this summer will take charge of one of the summer playgrounds and vacation schools, Mrs. William Macrum and Mrs. E. A. Jones being the club's delegates.

A petition asking for clean, decent and comfortable street car service was presented and indorsed by the club.

Tea and Musicale.

The next meeting of the Travelers club will take the form of a tea and musicale, and will be held on the next regular meeting day, March 24, in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association. A fine program has been arranged for the occasion, and the soloists will include Mrs. Henry Mangold and Miss Mahler, together with Theodore Rentz and Fritz Stahlberg of the Pittsburgh Orchestra. The entertainment is under the direction of the social committee of the club, while Mrs. John Mann Jr., Armstrong, the musical director, will have charge of the music.

Open Club Meetings.

Of unusual interest will be the special feature of the open meeting of the Lawrenceville New Century club on Tuesday afternoon, March 17, in the parlors of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Alfred B. Harlow of Sewickley has consented to give a talk on "George Eliot; Her Life and Her Work." Mrs. Harlow has made literature an absorbing study and her talks before the Sewickley Women's club have been of the deepest interest. Some excellent music will be an additional feature of the meeting next Tuesday afternoon.

Lenten Music.

The second of the series of Lenten musical services will be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First English Evangelical Lutheran church, Grant street. These Wednesday musical services during Lent have been of special interest to Pittsburgh people for several seasons and are attended by many people who thoroughly appreciate the quiet hour, its impressive music within the dimly lighted church and the restful Lenten spirit which is characteristic of the service.

Avery Women's Suffrage Club.

The regular meeting of the Avery Women's Suffrage club was held last evening at the home of Mrs. J. B. D. Hornberger in Stanton avenue. The subject for discussion was "Shall Justice or Expediency be the Foundation of Government?"

WOMAN'S CORNER

Imitation Laces All the Rage.

The imitation laces are things of beauty; and even where the wearer of a gown could afford to supply genuine lace, many dressmakers prefer to use the high-grade imitations. The latter are so good that they give the desired effect; and yet, in dealing with them, one is not hampered by a desire to spare the lace. One may cut and slash and do what one will to obtain original results without a sense of guilt in the destruction of intensely valuable material.

Alencon, Point de Flanders, Chantilly and all the handsomer guipures are in high vogue. Yak lace and heavy Cluny are particularly liked for dyeing. Arabian laces are much used, and the filet laces, after trembling in the balance for a time, are launched upon a career of favor greater than that attained last spring.

A moderate meshed filet, with darned floral patterns, is one of the favorites, and conventional patterns in cream, white or colored threads on a cream filet mesh are used on woolen, linen and cotton fabrics. The crocheted laces, too, are very well liked, but Irish point, though often seen, has had a distinct fall from grace.

The Sleep of Childhood.

The sleep of childhood should be profound and quiet. When a child is restless and talks in his sleep his nervous system has in some way been overtaxed; his digestion is disordered. The child who walks in his sleep has a still more disturbed nervous system. A writer of great experience makes the statement that he never knew a somnambulist who was the child of a poor man. The different organs of the body are mutually dependent one upon the other, as true as this is of adult life it is doubly true of the child. The stomach quickly disorders the brain, and the brain disorders the digestion. The child who is restless and nervous should have a carefully regulated diet.

It should be seen that children have their sleep regularly and that the hours are sufficiently long to permit of recuperation of the body and the building up of the tissues. Children from five to six should have 13½ hours' sleep. A decrease of half an hour may be made for each year after that. For instance, the child from six to seven should have 13 hours; from seven to eight, 12½ hours, and so on. Children of nervous and pale habit should be put to bed for rest and quiet, even if they do not go immediately to sleep.

A Good Recipe When Cooking Veal.

First of all, veal must be used perfectly fresh. If it is too young when killed, the flesh will be soft, flabby and have a blue tinge; avoid this as unwholesome as well as indigestible. Choose veal that is pink and firm of flesh and hard of bone. It requires 20 minutes to the pound to roast thoroughly. Also a very hot oven for the first 15 minutes, then a lower steady heat to the end of the roasting. This with frequent basting of well-seasoned liquor in the pan and a perfectly seasoned dressing of bread crumbs, salt, pepper, sweet herbs and a little minced bacon will give you a meat quite as acceptable for a change as roast turkey. Other seasonings suitable for veal are thyme, marjoram, lemon peel and juice, parsley, carrot, onion and turnip. Salt pork is the best when additional fat is required, as it adds to the flavor. Rice instead of white potatoes is quite as appropriate with veal as with mutton or chicken. To make veal rolls, cut up two pounds of veal steaks as for cutlets. On each one lay one slice of bacon, and on this spread some forcemeat, season with salt and pepper and roll up and tie with a string. Dip in beaten egg and bread crumbs and fry in a sauce pan with one sliced onion. When well browned, stir in one tablespoonful of flour and one cup of stock. Remove from the frying pan to a baking dish, place in the oven, cover closely and allow to cook for 20 minutes.

The Fashion in Stationery.

There is noticeable an increased use of small sizes in writing papers. Milady's note is now a very tiny, delicate affair, possibly a way she has of excusing herself for writing brief letters. "My paper is all used," she scribbles, and signs herself, "Yours devotedly," with a thankful sigh there is room to write no more.

Pure white is the favorite color, though we see no end of all manner of hues in stationery; but white is the vogue, and though fads in stationery come and go, this always has a sure following. Linen, lawn and cambric are also still the popular papers.

In the matter of engraving the Berlin block still seems to lead. There is something so distingue about it, and as there is too difficult handiwork about it for it ever to become cheapened, it is likely to remain long in fashion's favor. A point noticed about the season's cards is the centering of the address under the name and also the placing of the reception days in the center instead of the lower corner as formerly.

Shaded old English divides honors with the Berlin block. This style of engraving is a great favorite, for it has a certain individuality that appeals to many. For misses' cards the black old English is used, and the card is much smaller, about two inches square.

Because it is a sure worm destroyer, it is none the less a strength-giver—Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.

The Engineer Found It

JUST AS HE WAS ABOUT TO DIE.

John A. Dennison, engineer, 75 N. 10th St., Philadelphia, says: "For sixteen years I have suffered with Gastritis of the severest kind and have spent a great deal of money on doctors and medicines, especially morphine, to alleviate pain. For over eight months I have been unable to work and was reduced in flesh from 190 lbs. to 113, was given up by my physician as a hopeless case; he told my wife I could not live. I heard of Wheat Meat and began to use it, gradually I began to improve, I now weigh 145 lbs., have been working for over a month and am in better physical condition than for the past ten years. I would rather be without a loaf of bread in my house than without a package of Wheat Meat."

POLICE RECOVER VALUABLE JEWELS

Sparklers Lost by Prima Donna of Wilbur Opera Co. Found by McKeesport Officer.

Diamonds valued at $700 were recovered by Chief of Police P. J. Morrisey of McKeesport last night. They belong to Miss Carrie Wisdom, prima donna of the Wilbur Opera Company, who lost them two weeks ago while the company was playing in McKeesport.

While in McKeesport Miss Wisdom stopped at the Ringgold hotel in Locust street. She made a practice of carrying the diamonds in a chamois bag inside the bosom of her dress. The jewels suddenly disappeared in the hotel. Last night Charles Dabney, colored, a porter at the hotel, and Frank Sherman and Vincent Harris, also colored, were arrested.

When searched each of the prisoners had some of the jewels in his possession. Charles Hancock, who was given some of the diamonds by Dabney for working in the latter's place one night, notified the police that Dabney had a lot of jewelry. The police learned that a ring valued at $60 had been given by Harris to a druggist at Blackfort, near McKeesport, for medicine. When the police went to the store they found the druggist wearing the ring and secured it from him. The jewelry consisted of five rings, one diamond-and-pearl stickpin and a pair of diamond cardrops.

BILLION-DOLLAR GOLD COIN FOR LOUISIANA EXPOSITION

Farran Zerbe, a New York coin dealer, is in Pittsburgh on his way to St. Louis, where he goes to meet the board of directors of the Louisiana purchase exposition with a proposition to have a $1,000,000,000 gold coin made at the United States mint in Philadelphia. This coin is to be surrounded by $1,000,000,000 in paper money of the United States. For decoration purposes it is proposed to put 1,000,000 cancelled and uncancelled postage stamps around the display of the monstrous gold coin and the paper money exhibit.

The coin is to be of solid gold, 40 feet in diameter and 30 inches thick. Taking the representation of the American eagle on a $20 gold coin as a model the measurement of the eagle on the great coin from the tip of one wing to the other would be 29 feet.

DENY A COMBINATION.

Reported Merger of the Standard Steel and the American Car and Foundry Companies.

President John M. Hansen of the Standard Steel Car Company denied last night all knowledge of the reported closing of a deal by which the control of the Standard Steel Car Company passes to the American Car and Foundry Company. The reports emanated from Detroit. Similiar denials were made from New York by representatives of the American company.

The Standard Steel Car Company last fall put into operation its large and modern plant at Butler, where railroad cars of various kinds are now being produced. The same interests control the Southern Car and Foundry Company, with plants in Alabama and Tennessee, and if the Standard passes to the American company, the southern plants will undoubtedly go the same way. The American company was formed several years ago by the consolidation of a large number of plants of varying degrees of importance. The one nearest this city is at Berwick, Pa.

Munhall Man Has a New Comer Placed In Jail on Severe Charges.

Dr. John Stein of Munhall was landed in the Allegheny county jail last night on charges made by Nicholas Steiner, also of Munhall, before Justice G. W. Giles. The substance of Steiner's allegation is that Stein charged $10 for a consultation at which he prescribed bread pills and carbon oil. The specific charge on which Stein was arrested is practicing medicine without being registered. Stein is said to have been in this country only seven months.

Beside objecting to the prescription Stein gave him for his own ailments, Steiner objects to the treatment his wife was subjected to when he called in Stein to attend her.

MRS. FISH SAILS AWAY.

Leader of New York Four Hundred Looks Ill from Incessant Press of Social Duties.

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, one of the most original entertainers of the "Four Hundred," bade a lively farewell for a time to Manhattan today, and sailed away on the Kaiser Wilhelm. As Mrs. Fish sat in her stateroom Mrs. Pembroke Jones, who occupied a suite on the opposite side of the steamer, dropped in.

"You certainly look well," said Mrs. Jones.

"Do I?" laughed Mrs. Fish, raising her veil. "Then I must feel awfully bad. I simply want to rest."

As she raised her veil the deep lines could be seen on her face, and her eyes were listless. "This pace is simply killing me," said Mrs. Fish. "I never talk to newspaper people," continued Mrs. Fish. "The newspapers have been saying such dreadful things about me that I have concluded to simply close up like a clam when any of their representatives are about."

Strenuous Hockey Leads to Fist Fights

FIST FIGHT IN HOCKEY CONTEST

There Were Lively Scenes on the Ice at the Garden.

BANKERS WON GAME

They were at it again out at Duquesne garden last night, and before the hockey contest between the Banker and Victoria sevens was finished there were two fist fights between players, to say nothing of the battles with hockey sticks, which waged fiercely from the start to the finish of the game. Bankers scored the victory 7 to 0.

The players of pugilistic turn of mind were Garnet Sixsmith of the Victorias and Campbell of Bankers. In the first half after Garnet Sixsmith had tried to chop Lifflton's nose off with his hockey stick, Campbell made a pass at Sixsmith's jaw, but only landed on his chest, and for which he was ruled off the ice. In the second half these players got after each other again and the order of things was reversed. This time it was Sixsmith who made a vicious swing for Campbell's eye, but the blow failed to land. Sixsmith was ordered off the ice for the balance of the game.

These were only a few of the side features to last night's game. Umpire Bob Hamilton had a very busy evening of it, chasing players to the bench for various infractions of the rules. In the first half six players were disciplined, and in the second half a like number of sentences were imposed. Once the umpire ordered Harvey of Victoria to the bench for a rule violation and the player refused to abide by the ruling with the result that he was put out of the game altogether.

There was a large crowd out to see the contest, and the majority of the spectators seemed to be in sympathy with the Victoria seven, because when a player from that team was punished the ruling of the umpire would bring out a storm of hisses. The crowd also took offense at some of the referee's ruling and made things unpleasant for that official. Altogether it was an evening of excitement apart and the crowd rather seemed to like it.

The Bankers started off with three points in the first half of the first, one being made by Stuart on a pass from Lifflton. The second score was made by Roberts, who got the puck from Lifflton, and the third score was credited to Campbell, although it was really made by Dysart against his own team, Campbell, who was playing goal for Victoria, tried to drive the puck away from in front of the net, but the disc struck Duvall and bounded into the cage. Half Stuart, Robertson and Lifflton by clever work scored the Bankers' four points.

The real fight over first place will take place Friday night when the Bankers and P. A. C. teams line up against each other. The Bankers now have a record of 8 victories and 3 defeats, while P. A. C. has 7 victories and 4 defeats, so that next Friday's game may settle the championship and it will be a warm contest all the way. President Miller of the Hockey League wishes to be placed on record as against the strenuous hockey games, and says he has always favored clean sport. The score and line-up of last night's game follows:

Bankers—7.	Victoria—0.
Richardson	Goal
Thyrnbull	Point
Stuart	Cover point
Campbell	Center
Roberts	Forward
Lifflton	Forward
Howard	Left wing
Goals—Stuart 2, Roberts 2, Lifflton 2, Campbell. Umpire—Bob Hamilton. Referee—Bert Russell.

PULLIAM PROMISES TO PROTECT UMPIRES

Will Not Allow Players or Club Owners to Bother Them. Pirates Heard From.

President Harry Pulliam of the National league has gone back to his New York headquarters, after two days here. Before leaving the president said that the outlook for the baseball season is very bright, and he looks for a close and interesting pennant struggle, as all the teams are stronger than they were last year.

Pulliam spent the major portion of the two days in conference with his successor, Will Locke, instructing him on the duties of his office, which is one of such a complicated nature that diagrams must be furnished to explain about the workings of the turnstiles, etc. Locke took notes of everything and will spend the time between now and the opening of the season studying out these copious notes.

Pulliam will return here about the first week in April to confer with his staff of umpires, who have been notified to meet him here. At this meeting the rules will be thoroughly discussed and there will be a direct understanding between the president and his indicator handlers as to the meaning of each rule and the umpire's duty in enforcing them. The umpires will be given to understand that in the strict enforcement of the rules they will have the loyal backing of the president, who means to protect his staff from both players and club owners.

President Dreyfuss yesterday received letters from Pitcher Eddie Doheny and Clarence Beaumont, the boss batter of the league. Doheny writes from his home in Vermont that he is exercising every day, is in fine shape and will be here on Monday next. Beaumont writes from Rochester, Wis., that it would cost too much for him to come direct here, then go to the Springs, and with official consent he will go direct from his home to the training grounds. The consent was given.

Hans Wagner was a caller at headquarters yesterday, having come in from Carnegie to pay his respects to President Pulliam. Hans never was in better condition in his life. He is as hard as nails and weighs 184 pounds, which is considerably lighter than he was at this time last season. Playing basketball is responsible for Wagner's fine physical condition, and Hans recommends the sport to all baseball players.

President Dreyfuss left last night for Louisville to pay a long delayed visit to his family. He will return here on Sunday, and on Tuesday will accompany his champions to their training quarters at Hot Springs.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED ON GOOD ROADS MEASURE

State Engineer or Commissioner of Highways With Two Assistants Proposed.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, PA., March 10.—Another step toward the accomplishment of the proposed improvements to the public roads of the state was taken today when Senator Sproul of Delaware and Senator Roberts of Montgomery agreed upon a compromise road bill which they will both press for passage through the legislature.

Each of these senators introduced a good roads bill and their bills differed in many respects. They have come together upon a proposition for the creating of the office of state engineer or commissioner of highways with two assistants. After consultation with Chairmen Bliss and Snyder of the committee on appropriations of the house and senate, respectively, they believe they will be able to get an appropriation of $1,250,000 to be spent by the state for road improvement during the next two years.

They have decided to recognize those townships which have already built good roads by allowing $100,000 to be spent in maintenance of such roads. All the money to be appropriated by the state is to be spent under the supervision of state officials, but it is possible that townships will be permitted to bid for some of the work on the roads.

"I was never more sanguine of passage of a satisfactory good roads bill than I am tonight," said Senator Sproul.

In the house today a large number of petitions were presented from granges, asking for state aid for public roads and favoring a state highway commission.

As It Now Stands Saloonists May Furnish Eatables to Their Customers.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, March 10.—When the Shern bill, to prohibit the giving by liquor dealers of free lunch with a purchase of drinks, came up, Mr. Riebel had it amended to authorize the giving of such lunch and the bill passed second reading.

The following bills were passed finally in the senate:

To prevent fraud in testing milk and cream; creating a department of supplies in cities of the first class; amending the act providing for the erection of soldiers' monuments at county seats; amending the judges' retirement act to validate judgments where there is a failure to comply with the law relating to service of process; authorizing county commissioners in Philadelphia to appoint election officers; amending the act of 1887, regarding the construction of old bridges; making an appropriation for the support of the soldiers' orphans school; to provide for the recording of deeds resulting from sheriffs' sales; relating to the limitation of time for the recovery of damages for injuries to lands caused by mining operations; to authorize railroad corporations to sell parts or perts of their lines; authorizing township commissioners to levy and collect a tax on vehicles; fixing the salaries and number of clerks in the state department; for the incorporation of companies for the filtration and purification of water to supply the public; authorizing cities of the second class to own, control and maintain their own water works.

COOK PESTHOUSE BILL IN GOVERNOR'S HANDS

Senate Also Passes Finally Measure Creating Board of Barbers.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, March 10.—The Cook pesthouse bill is now in the hands of the governor. It was passed finally by the senate this morning. The legislation will allow Pittsburgh to build a hospital for contagious and infectious diseases anywhere in Allegheny county.

The senate passed finally the bill creating a state board of barbers and licensing tonsorial artists. The bill will now go to the house and there is a strong probability that it will be passed finally there.

The contest between the city and country legislators over the Grady bills to correct the legal defects in the juvenile court act is likely to be renewed, as a result of the action of the senate today in refusing to concur in the amendments made by the house to two of the bills.

The bill to allow street railway companies to carry freight has made its appearance. This time it is fathered by Representative W. T. Creasy of Columbia.

The senate has passed a bill allowing the judgees of all courts to retire on full salary. Under the present law but half pay is allowed.

YANKEE OIL DERRICKS MAY DOT OLD ENGLAND

Tests to Be Made Along the River Tamar, Says a Globe Trotter at the Schenley.

"It would look strange to see Yankee oil derricks in England and to have King Edward's domain covered with a network of pipes, but these are some of the things which capitalists on the other side hope to accomplish," remarked Gerald Neuhorn, an English traveler, at the Hotel Schenley last night.

Arrangements are being made to sink a well in Devon or Cornwall. Country around the River Tamar has been thought to be the most likely to produce results, and it is here that England's first oil well may flow. The country in the vicinity of Brompton Regis, in Somersetshire, is also looked upon as favorable. At all events a test will be made and Bristol has hundreds of petroleum enthusiasts. The prospectors argue that a coal region should have pockets of oil, and the country selected for the tests was thus located because it lies adjacent to a famous mining locality.

"Americans, of course, will be employed in the preliminary work, but I am told that there is no American capital invested

The scale committee will, in all probability, act also as the joint scale committee.

The report of Secretary-Treasurer Gilbert showed a membership of 21,000, with a balance of cash on hand of $11,072 35.

The result of the election according to the referendum system, the first time it was tried, was reported as follows: President, Patrick Gilday, Morrisdale; vice president, William McPherson, Barnesboro; secretary-treasurer, Richard Gilbert, Clearfield; national executive board member, Thomas Hagerty, Reynoldsville; auditors, Fred Mitchell, Patton; J. J. Armstrong, Rossiter; Benjamin Crago, Morrisdale.

The scale committee formulated a demand for an increase of 20 per cent over the present mining rates; an eight-hour day and a flat differential between machine and pick mining of 10 cents.

The operators will be here for the joint convention tomorrow. It is understood they will make an offer of an increase of 10 per cent for all miners and mine laborers, leaving other conditions practically the same.

National President John Mitchell and National Secretary W. B. Wilson will be here tomorrow, and preparations are being made by the labor organizations to give them a rousing reception.

MINTS MAKING FILIPINO MONEY

Seventy-Five Million Pesos Being Turned Out at Philadelphia.

DESIGNED BY NATIVE

Melecio Figuero, a Noted Artist and Sculptor, Preserves Traditions of His Country on New Silver Currency for Islands.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—No time is being lost by the bureau of insular affairs in getting out the new coins for the Philippines, in accordance with the Philippine currency bill passed at the recent session of congress. Seventy-five millions of pesos will be minted before the job is complete, and after that number is issued, as many more will be coined from time to time as the business of the islands demand. Two pesos will be taken in exchange for one American dollar. The Philadelphia mint is now at work turning out pesos and the fractional coins—half-pesos, 25 centavos, 10 centavos and 5 centavos.

All the designs are the work of Melecio Figuero, a native Filipino artist and sculptor, who studied in Rome and Paris and has won laurels in Madrid. Upon the obverse of the silver coins is the erect figure of a Filipino girl standing beside an anvil, with a hammer in her hand. Behind her in the distant background is the smoking representation of Mayon, the largest of the Philippine volcanoes.

This volcano is not active just now, but, of course, that fact has nothing to do with art as represented on the coins. Over the girl's head is the denomination of the piece of money, as "un pesos," and beneath is the word "Filipinas." The reverse of the coin bears the American shield surmounted by an eagle, with the date of the coinage.

The obverse of the copper centavos bears the same smoking volcano and the same anvil and hammer, only that the workman pictured is a Filipino man seated with the hammer in his lap, instead of resting upon the anvil. The reverse of the copper coins is the same as that of the silver.

W. R. Andrews, will become secretary to the postoffice committee. The post at the head of the immigration committee will probably go to Senator Dillingham.

NEW PHARMACUETICAL BUILDING IS OPENED

The new building at Pride and Bluff streets of the pharmaceutical department of the Western university was thrown open yesterday for inspection. A house-warming, under the auspices of the senior class, began at 1 p. m. The Nossokof brothers gave musical selections during the afternoon and Prof. Guenther and sons rendered a program in the evening. This was followed by dancing.

The building is four stories high and adjoins the old department. The cost will reach $30,000. The eight large rooms will be fitted up for lectures and the old building will be turned into laboratories, with one room fitted up for lounging.

The large amphitheater surpasses anything of its kind in the city. A bazar of fancy and useful articles was held on the third floor and ice cream and cake was sold below. The bazar room and the dancing hall were decorated with the college colors, orange and blue.

COURT KNOCKS OUT A TAX ORDINANCE

Test Case Permits Merchants to Post Bills Without Taking Out a City License.

Judge R. S. Frazer, yesterday in common pleas court No. 2, wiped out an important source of revenue to the city, by declaring, in the case of J. F. McMahon against the city of Pittsburgh, that merchants not engaged in the regular business of bill posting, do not have to take out a license costing them $50 annually. As every merchant who uses bills to advertise his business has heretofore paid into the city treasurer this annual license tax, several thousand dollars will be lost next year under this ruling.

McMahon, who is engaged in the clothing business, has been posting bills to advertise his business. Ordinance Officer Lindsay requested him to take out a license. Attorney Thomas L. Kane advised McMahon that as he was not engaged in the business of bill posting, but hired men to do that work for him, he was not responsible and did not need such a license.

Information was made before Alderman S. J. Toole to test the matter. Toole gave judgment for the city, for $50 and costs. McMahon took a certiorari to No. 2 court, and the case was argued yesterday.

Kane argued that the ordinance applied only to those individuals or firms that make a business of posting bills. Judge Frazier took this view of it and reversed the alderman.

In the report of the commissioner in the divorce case of Frank Geppert against Angelina Geppert, it is alleged that the libellant's mother-in-law caused the trouble in the household. One witness swore that when Mrs. Geppert married Mr. Geppert to show another gentleman that she could get a husband.

Stanley Krall said he had "kept company" with Mrs. Geppert but when she announced that if they got married they would have to live with her mother, he ceased his attentions and merely spoke to her as they passed by.

Judge J. A. Evans in criminal court directed the jury in the case of Carioli Gigliotti, an employe of the Max Shamberg steamship agency, now a part of the First National bank, to return a verdict of not guilty. Gigliotti was charged with larceny by bailee by Leonardo Andino, who claimed that he had given him $40 to send to Italy and that it went to the wrong party.

MI-O-NA A GUARANTEED CURE.
Folly of Treating Dyspepsia With Pepsin Tablets.
Mi-o-na is entirely different from other treatments for dyspepsia. The fact that it is sold by May's and Schilling Bros. Co., the popular druggists, under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure dyspepsia and restore normal weight, shows that it possesses unusual merit.
Mi-o-na is not an ordinary laxative pill; it is not a digestive tablet composed of pepsin or pancreatin; it is not a mere stimulant and tonic. Mi-o-na is a compressed food tablet that furnishes the constituents necessary to build up the system; aids the food to assimilate, and strengthens and regulates the digestive organs, enabling the body to gain in natural, healthy plumpness.
Austin Flint, M. D., Professor of Physiology in the Bellevue Hospital Medical college, New York city, one of the most eminent medical men in the country, says: "I have yet to see a single case in which any of the pepsins, pancreatins or the physiologically absurd combinations of pepsin and pancreatin seem to have produced any benefit, even of a temporary character."
This statement from a man of Dr. Flint's standing should convince any one of the folly of trying to cure diseases of the digestive organs by the ordinary dyspepsia tablets and powders. Mi-o-na gives quick relief and makes permanent cures. The best evidence that can be offered as to its superiority and its power to cure is the fact that May's or Schilling Bros. Co. will return your money if Mi-o-na does not help you.

Timely Pointers from Paterson.

They Make Us Masters of the Silk Situation.

PATERSON, N. J., is called the "Lyons of America." This community of 110,000 people dwelling in the Valley of the Passaic makes just two things—silks and locomotives. All told, 27,000 of them find employment in the silk mills and 4,000 in the dye shops. Half the broad silks and ribbons made in America are thrown, twisted, dyed, woven, printed and finished here, and fully 95 per cent of all the skein and piece silks produced in this country come to the waters of the Passaic, because no other water can impart the same brilliancy and permanency of color.

So when the 4,000 Paterson dyers went out on a strike about a year ago and stayed away from their tubs for thirteen long weeks, it played sixes and sevens with the silk market.

A man now in close touch with our own business was in Paterson as an attache of the leading dry goods store all through this turbulent period, was closely associated with many silk manufacturers and became thoroughly conversant with the entire situation and gave us such timely information when he came to us last fall that we placed advance orders for our spring and summer stocks of Silks, which now make us masters of the local situation.

Samples of any of the following Silks, which will be furnished to bona fide customers for comparison, will soon settle the question of our supremacy in the mind of anyone disposed to make investigations:

Three widths of Black Taffetas, in four grades, whose goodness cannot be gainsaid:
36-inch Guaranteed Black Taffetas, $1.25
27-inch Guaranteed Black Taffetas, $1 to $1.15
19-inch Guaranteed Black Taffetas, 85c.

The word "GUARANTEED" in our announcement means exactly what it says—that we are so certain of the wearing quality of the fabric and the permanence of the dye that we stand ready to replace any silk returned to us with the evidence that it has failed to meet our representations in every respect. This rarely occurs, but when it does happen we are only too glad to make things right.

COLORED SILKS AT 39c—A swell line of Foulard Silks in the popular blue-and-white polka dots and small figured effects. Good honest value at 50c yard.

AT $1.00 YARD—Fancy striped and broche checked Taffetas and Louisenes. The correct silks for Shirt Waist Suits and separate Waists. Regular $1.25 quality.

COLORED TAFFETAS—A full line of all the new Spring shades, also black and cream—a superb lining silk. Worth 69c yard. Crisp, rustling finish, for 59c yard.

BEST COLORED TAFFETA MADE—Fifty different shades and two-tone glace effects. Your choice 85c yard.

DON'T misunderstand us. We're not offering the new spring goods at half price—no store could do that—but we ARE closing out thousands of spring weight suits and top coats at just half the marked prices. To be true, the goods are fall and winter styles, but as the new spring fashions are not radically different, that should not deter you from purchasing—not when you effect a saving of 50%. Each and every suit and overcoat left from our fall and winter stock (excepting only the full dress suits, uniforms and coachmen's liveries) and all pants marked $2.00 or over, goes at just half the plainly marked price. But—you must come in without delay.

This "½ off" sale will of necessity come to an end next Saturday, as the new spring goods will then demand our entire attention. We've already sold quite a large number of new spring suits and top coats. The greatest demand has been for those swell new spring tan covert cloth box top coats, silk lined throughout, we're showing at 10.00

One and all agree that nothing as fine and nobby has ever been offered at the opening of a season for anywhere near the money. The jauntiness of the cut, the hang of the garment, the carefulness evinced in even the smallest details, appeal most forcibly to all judges of correct attire for men.

BYERS' STORY OF A BRUTAL CRIME

Murderer Charges Mrs. McWilliams With Planning Husband's Death.

FOUR PLOTS THAT FAILED

Accused Woman Showed No Remorse While Horrible Details of Layton's Killing Were Related—The Clairvoyant's Part.

The story of a cold-blooded murder, related with stolid indifference by the acknowledged slayer of husband and father, and listened to without the slightest sign of regret or remorse by the mother of the victim's children and the woman who is now on trial, charged with having planned the whole tragedy, startled judge, jury and a packed court room of morbid women and curious men. No such details of a killing have before been told in this county. Plot after plot, as Byers alleged, was planned by the wife to rid herself of a husband, each failing because the boy lacked the nerve to carry out the devilish schemes, if his story is true. She, he claims, bolstered him up by taking him to a fortune teller and having a story of future happiness whispered into his willing ear.

The trial of John and Nellie McWilliams was resumed yesterday morning. They are charged with the murder of Augustus J. Layton. Nothing of any consequence to implicate the man has yet been brought out, but the testimony against the woman is sensational.

TO PROVE A CONSPIRACY.

District Attorney Haymaker attempted to elicit testimony which counsel for the defense said was intended to prove a conspiracy between William J. Byers, who has already pleaded guilty to the actual killing of Layton, and Mrs. McWilliams, then Layton's wife. This caused several verbal passages-at-arms between the attorneys.

The incident of the day was Byers' testimony. Other witnesses, whose testimony was either cut short or did not have much bearing on the main issue, were Richard Webb, S. Edward Taylor, who found Layton's body; Miss Rose Turner of New Derry, who raised Mrs. McWilliams; Mrs. Catherine Thompson, Miss Hattie McMillan, Mrs. Florence Thompson, Mrs. Catherine Carey, her daughter Kate, Mrs. Agnes Martin and her husband, neighbors of the Laytons at the time of the murder, and ex-Detective Charles McGovern.

When Byers was called he was evidently under a mental strain, but told a cool story. He repeatedly had to be cautioned to keep up his voice so he could be heard by the jury, but grew louder as the more horrible details came out.

The witness said in reply to questions from the district attorney that his name was William J. Byers, but he was commonly called Jack. He was 20 years old last February. He first met Mrs. Layton in 1899 while she was stopping with a family named Bock in Turtle Creek, where she remained a month.

BYERS VISITS MRS. LAYTON.

Byers said he visited Mrs. Layton three or four times at the Bock house. He then told about her moving to a house in Turtle Creek, where her husband, then in Derry, joined her about two months later. Subsequently she moved to Brinton, where Byers said he boarded with her about three months. He left his father's home in Turtle Creek to live with her. She moved back to Turtle Creek, where he resumed his attentions. One month before the husband's death he saw her at regular times.

"How often did you call on her?"

"Almost every day, both at night and day."

"How long did you stay?"

"When I got there at 12 I stayed till 5 in the morning."

"State whether or not you ever had any conversation with Mrs. Layton relative to the killing of her husband."

"Yes," Byers answered, and then, after questioning by the district attorney, he told of plans she had suggested to get rid of Layton.

The first suggestion was made about three months after he had met her, and she then suggested that Byers take two bottles of whisky, one of which was to be poisoned. He was to meet Layton returning from work at Wilmerding and offer him whisky from the good bottle, and then substitute the bottle containing the poison. When her husband was dead, the witness said, she was to marry him.

MIGHT MIX THE BOTTLES.

Byers said he did not consent to the plan, giving as his reason, which he told her, that he might mix the bottles. She then suggested that the cork of the poisoned bottle be marked with a "B," but he couldn't explain her reason for selecting that letter.

The next proposition was for Byers to lie in wait along a railroad and when Layton passed to throw a large lump of coal at him, giving the impression that it had fallen from a passing engine. He got out of this plan, he said, by telling her a Mr. Falk would be coming home with Layton at the time.

A third suggestion was for Byers to disguise himself as a negro woman and waylay Layton as he was passing beneath a railroad arch at the lower end of Turtle Creek, and then place his body on the street car track that passed through the dark arch. This plan, he said, he came near carrying out.

"How?" asked Mr. Haymaker.

"I was almost persuaded by her," replied the witness, as he nodded toward Mrs. McWilliams.

A fourth suggestion was to lay for Layton and shoot him. To take him to examine a horse was the fifth plan, which was carried out. Byers said it was on the morning of May 11, Tuesday, that he met Layton. The murder occurred on June 11. He afterward corrected himself, then repeated May again. He was mixed on the month. He said he was with Mrs. Layton the night before.

VISITED A FORTUNE TELLER.

Mr. Haymaker then turned to the trip to see the fortune teller in Pittsburgh, which, the witness said, was made on the day before the murder. He met Mrs. Layton by appointment in Pittsburgh. His instructions were to get a letter from the fortune teller before Mrs. Layton arrived, which he failed to do. When she arrived, he said, they went out Penn avenue to Fortieth street and down that street to the left for about a quarter of a mile to a frame house on the right hand side of the street. Mrs. Layton, he said, talked with the fortune teller about half an hour in the front room, while he waited in a rear room. He was then given an audience by the clairvoyant.

Mr. Haymaker was met with objections when he attempted to show what the fortune teller told.

Judge Macfarlane said, "We want the conversation of these persons, bearing on the death of Layton, and nothing more."

The district attorney, however, succeeded in having Byers answer that Mrs. Layton had told him after the visit that the fortune teller had told her that she would lose her husband, and to be careful, as detectives in plain clothes would visit her.

The couple then went to Braddock, where they separated, going in different directions. The next morning he went to meet Layton, having made the appointment the day before to go to see the horse of a friend of Byers. He met Layton about 6:30 in the morning at a coal tipple on the Pennsylvania railroad. The two men then went toward East McKeesport over the hills.

When the top of the hill was reached Layton asked Byers where the house was.

HOW HE KILLED LAYTON.

"I pointed across the hill to the left," Byers continued. "He was on my left and below me, and then I fired." While he testified the witness half turned in his chair and reached to his hip pocket to illustrate his manner in drawing his revolver and firing.

"I think I fired twice before Layton fell." Byers showed how Layton fell before him, saying, "Oh, Jack," as he drew his hands up about his head.

Byers said he continued firing. "I stamped on his stomach," said the witness, as he lifted his foot, "and then I looked at him a little while, and when the blood began running out of his mouth I got sick and ran down the hill."

"Do you know what month it was now?" asked Mr. Haymaker.

"May," answered Byers.

Byers next saw Mrs. Layton on the 12th, the following day.

"She said, 'Jack, what did you do with Gus; you killed him?'"

Byers denied it at first to her, then she said, "Tell me all and I will be satisfied." He said she added, "Be careful, the detectives are watching the house." Again she said she would "swear herself out of it."

Later on Byers said he asked her for $70 of Layton's railroad life insurance which she had borrowed from him, and she replied, "Go on, do you want Careys (neighbors) to hear."

At this point court adjourned and Byers' testimony will be resumed this morning.

SENTENCE TO PEN GIVEN BY REQUEST.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., March 10.—(Special.)—The Blair county court today sentenced Joseph Carney, a colored railroad laborer, to a short term in jail for slashing a fellow workman with a knife. "Your honor," pleaded the prisoner, "please send me to the pen; I need exercise." The court granted Carney's request, and imposed a sentence of 13 months' strenuous exercise in the Western penitentiary.

JUSTICE ORDERS BODY OF HAGAMAN EXHUMED

Another Step in Battle for Possession of Dead Man's Fortune.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 10.—Justice O'Gorman in the supreme court today signed an order directing the exhumation of the body of Theodore Hagaman in the Rural cemetery, Poughkeepsie, in order that the remains may be examined by a coroner's physician.

Hagaman's relatives are demanding that his widow give an account of the estate left by the dead man.

Assistant District Attorney Garvin in an affidavit says he asks that the body be exhumed. "In view of the financial relations of Hagaman and his wife and in view of the medical treatment of Hagaman by Flower, Heald and Willis, and in view of the fact that the cause of death as given by them is not borne out by the clinical or medical history of the case."

BOY FATALLY INJURED BY A LARGE ROOSTER

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 10.—(Special.)—An unusual occurrence, which will probably cause the death of a 19-months-old boy, happened at the home of Charles Dexter here. A large Plymouth Rock rooster flew at the baby, knocking him down and striking him in the face with his spurs, time and again. The mother heard the child's screams and ran out. Her baby was covered with blood, and the rooster was standing over him, striking the boy with his spurs.

CARROLL LEAVES THE TAMMANY WIGWAM

Is Frozen Out by Charles F. Murphy, Richard Croker's Successor.

VAN WYCK TO FOLLOW

Fate Was Settled When Big Bill Devery Won Chieftainship in Ninth District—Made Great Fortune in Political Game.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.

NEW YORK, March 10.—If Richard Croker should decide to come back to New York this fall he would find his arch enemy, John F. Carroll, out of Tammany. Carroll today resigned as a sachem of the Tammany society and it is believed that his close friend, former Mayor Van Wyck, will follow his example.

It is said tonight that Carroll has got out of the Tammany society because he cannot stand the attitude toward him of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall. Murphy has been on the outs with Carroll ever since Croker left. Recently Carroll gave up the leadership of the Twenty-ninth district. Now that he has resigned from the Tammany society too, it leaves a clear field for Murphy.

Judge James O'Gorman, grand sachem, received Carroll's resignation this afternoon, and it is understood that he recognized the resignation as a counter move to the determination of the sachems to prevent his re-election on the third Monday in April. As the story goes, Murphy had made up his mind that Carroll should be frozen out, and that his place should be given to Maurice B. Blumenthal or some other "good man" among the faithful. Van Wyck had not tendered his resignation tonight, but it is the general belief that he will either resign or announce that he is not a candidate for re-election before the end of this week.

The fate of Carroll was settled at the primaries in September, when "Big Bill" brought his fight in the Ninth district to a successful ending. Carroll at that time had eight followers in the executive committee, and it was his hope to elect eight or nine members and obtain control of the Greater New York Democracy. That organization did not elect a single member and Carroll found himself with a minority so small as to be hopeless.

It is believed that Carroll has at last reached the end of his political career. He does not care, so far as can be seen in his demeanor, and the general impression is that he is tired of fighting in primaries, in convention and in Tammany councils. He is a very rich man. When he entered politics he was a cheap clerk of courts. Today he is vice president of a bank.

STOCKHOLDERS RATIFY PLAN OF IMPROVEMENTS

Pennsylvania Railroad Now Prepared to Spend $10,000,000 in Pittsburgh.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., March 10.—The stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in annual meeting today, voted to increase the capital stock of the company by $150,000,000, making the total authorized capital $400,000,000. Of the increased capital $100,000,000 will be issued in straight stock and the directors are given the option of issuing the remaining $50,000,000 in convertible bonds. The increase will be ratified by a stock vote two weeks from today as required by law.

The stockholders also voted to lease for 20 years the Western New York & Pennsylvania railroad.

First Vice President Green told the stockholders that for the first time in its history the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was unable to meet the demands made upon it. In the past two years, Capt. Green said, the company had purchased one locomotive daily and a total of 40,000 freight cars.

In Pittsburgh alone an expenditure of $10,000,000 will be necessary to relieve the freight congestion and prevent its recurrence. The entire Pittsburgh division is to be four tracked, Capt. Green said, and continuing, said:

"Our coal traffic is so enormous that it must be kept out of the way of the passenger traffic."

The new issue of stock and bonds will be made by the directors March 24.

Six roads controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad, but built under a separate charter were, on a resolution, absorbed. They are: the South Fork, West Chester, River Front, Western Pennsylvania, Turtle Creek Valley and Downingtown & Lancaster railroads.

OWNERS STILL PROTEST.

Despite Councilmanic Favors to Allegheny Traction Lines There Is Strong Opposition.

By a vote of 7 to 3, the committee on corporations of Allegheny councils, last night ordered printed the ordinance granting to the Pittsburgh & Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway Company the right to lay tracks and operate cars on North and East Diamond streets. The ordinance will be reconsidered at the next meeting of select council.

The ordinance granting a franchise to the Pittsburgh Time and Signal Company was laid over after a prolonged discussion.

The committee on public works of Allegheny common council met last night. The ordinance granting the American Brewing Company the right to erect buildings on the city's water line right of way in Millvale, was sent to councils with a negative report. The ordinance granting the Pittsburgh Railways Company the right to lay tracks on Marshall avenue, was ordered printed.

CENTRAL BOARD TO TAKE ACTION

President Fox Objects to Councils Cutting Out School Levies.

RADICAL CHANGE MADE

Former System Was in Vogue for Many Years—Controller Is Held Responsible for the Departure—Two Levies.

John T. Fox, president of the central board of education, said last night that a special session of the board would have to be called at once to consider the failure of the city councils to include the school levies for the various sub-districts in the annual tax levy ordinance passed by councils on Monday and signed yesterday by Recorder Brown.

A meeting of the board was held last night. After the board adjourned President Fox was asked about the matter. He said the board had no knowledge of the action of councils last night or it would have taken the matter up then. President Fox said:

"The board will not have another regular meeting for a month, but a special session will have to be called right away to consider this matter. I think that a mistake has been made and it ought to be corrected. I will take steps tomorrow to have another meeting of the board.

"The omission of the levies of the sub-districts is a radical departure. A year ago the city controller notified the local boards to send their levies through the central board, although the central board cannot change the levies any more than can the city councils.

"Now this last change. The central board of education is required to send in to the controller the levies from the sub-districts, but the controller and councils cut them out of the ordinance, making the tax levy for the city and the schools. The levies from the sub-districts have been put in the tax levy ordinance by councils for years and I see no reason why they should be left out now."

Allegheny separates the general school levy from the city levy and the levies for the sub-districts are always put in the tax levy ordinance passed by councils, making altogether three separate levies, one for the city, a general levy for schools and one for sub-districts.

IRELAND'S OPPORTUNITY IN ENGLAND'S TROUBLE

National President of the Clan-Na-Gael Predicts an Irish Republic Will Yet Come.

"We believe the future is pregnant with dangers for England. In the day of her trouble we desire to snatch an opportunity. We will battle the British empire on this continent, and the friend of English influence we declare to be our foe. Our motto is, 'No compromise; an Irish republic.' We stand out in the world's arena and assert that separation from England, complete separation, is the only key to the solution of Ireland's ills. Robert Emmet's spirit lives, his soul goes marching on."

This was part of the address of the Hon. John T. Keating of Chicago, national president of the Clan-na-Gael, at the celebration of the 134th anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmet, held in Old City hall last evening. He quoted an English authority as saying that the English-speaking world was fast coming under the influence of America, and when this condition arrives Irish patriots see in it the realization of their dreams—the freedom of Ireland that would surely follow.

Resolutions to the effect that the Clan-na-Gael of Western Pennsylvania believed that Ireland will be free, and that it can be accomplished by the sword, were read and unanimously adopted with great enthusiasm.

The exercises were interspersed with vocal and instrumental music and at the close of the meeting the audience joined in singing "God Save Ireland."

Judge James R. MacFarlane presided and introduced the speaker of the evening.

PITTSBURGHER AT SULTAN'S COURT

Great Things Accomplished by John G. A. Leishman, Minister to Turkey.

POST A DIFFICULT ONE

Secures Payment of American Claims, Recognition for Charitable and Religious Institutions and Other Concessions.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—When John G. A. Leishman of Pittsburgh left the presidency of the Carnegie Steel Company and entered the diplomatic service of the United States he took with him into his new field the same executive ability and tact that enabled him to become the head of the greatest steel firm then in existence.

The press dispatches state that he has secured recognition of the examinations at the American Medical college at Beirut on the same basis as the French examinations; government recognition for American educational, charitable and religious institutions, and concessions from the Turkish authorities that will enable wives and children of Armenians who have become naturalized Americans to leave the empire and join their husbands and fathers in the United States. He has accomplished much for science by securing for an American archaeologist, a Mr. Banks, the right to make excavations at Tel-Abraham, Mesopotamia, supposed to be the site of the tomb of Abraham. Mr. Leishman has not yet reported to the state department his success in these matters, probably pending certain formalities, but it is not doubted that the press dispatches are correct.

The settlement of the question of the right of Armenian women and children to emigrate to America to join husbands and fathers is important, not only from a humanitarian standpoint, but by reason of the fact that it will relieve the state department from any vexatious cases. The department is constantly besieged with appeals from naturalized Armenians to aid them in getting their families out of the sultan's domain, in order that they may find more congenial homes in this country. But so long as the Turkish laws forbade Armenians to leave, and as the law recognized the wives and children of naturalized Americans to be Turkish subjects, the state department was powerless.

Mr. Leishman has been in the diplomatic service but six years, having been appointed minister to Switzerland by President McKinley on June 9, 1897. On December 20, 1900, Mr. Leishman was promoted to the post of minister to Turkey, one of the most difficult in the service.

At that time there were pending claims aggregating nearly $100,000 against the Turkish government, growing out of the destruction of the American mission property during the Armenian massacres. These claims had been hanging fire for several years and the sultan had made promise after promise for their payment, in all of which he had defaulted. Mr. Leishman pressed the claims with true Yankee spirit, and one morning a few months later the state department received a cable dispatch stating that the money was on deposit in the Ottoman bank at Constantinople subject to the secretary's order.

At the state department and at the White House he is considered one of the most efficient men among the United States representatives abroad.

QUINN AND HIS DOG FINALLY CAME TO GRIEF

With a large bulldog trailing at his heels, John Quinn of the Sixth ward made things lively for pedestrians in Smithfield street last night. Quinn was intoxicated and amused himself by hissing the dog on passing men and women, making them get off the pavement. Quinn and his dog bluffed several policemen in Smithfield street and evaded arrest. When he reached Sixth avenue, however, he and the dog were confronted by Officer Lloyd Weaver, who broke the fun up by kicking the dog in the ribs and locking Quinn in the Central police station on a charge of drunkenness. The dog followed his master to the station and was sent to the Tunnel street stables.

RACE QUESTON AFFECTS OUR VEGETABLE SUPPLY

Mississippi Truck Growers May Compel Negro Shippers to Use Separate Cars.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, March 10.—Shall the negro truck growers at Long Beach, Miss., be allowed to ship their vegetables in the cars of the association recently formed by M. O. Coggins of Pittsburgh?

This is about the most interesting phase of the negro question yet sprung. The white truckers at Long Beach, Miss., where the Pittsburgh combine exists, are in a quandary to know whether to allow the negro truck growers to use the same refrigerator cars or compel them to use separate cars.

A large mass meeting of white gardeners at Long Beach was held last night. The question arose whether the colored growers should be allowed to ship in association cars. One member thought the colored man must be barred, from the fact that his vegetables were usually not so carefully grown and prepared for market. The decision was held in abeyance, pending another meeting.

TWO DOCKS BURNED WITH $600,000 LOSS

PORTLAND, ORE., March 10.—Victoria dock, on the east side of the Willamette river, burned today causing a loss of $600,000. The fire spread to the Irving dock, adjoining, and the two docks, together with about 350,000 bushels of wheat, were destroyed.

A FISHERMAN'S NARRATIVE.

"I am a fisherman on the great lakes and exposed to wind and weather. A hard cold, several years ago, ran into catarrh of the head and ears and in the fall of 1901 it started up a terrible windstorm in my head which made me totally deaf. I doctored this one year with but little benefit, when I ran across Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm. I used five jars of this balm freely, when the most of the trouble was gone and I could hear the clock tick and I could breathe through my nose again. The trouble tried to get back on me, but I followed it right up and didn't let it back water on me and now I am all right. Don't have any more roaring and ringing noises and windstorms in my head as I had for a long time before I used the balm. Whenever I see anyone with a hard cold, deafness or catarrh I always mention Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm."

YOU CAN INTEREST HIM.

Any Man Over Fifty.

You can interest any man over 50 years of age in anything that will make him feel better, because while he may not as yet have any positive organic disease he no longer feels the buoyancy and vigor of twenty-five, nor the freedom from aches and pains he enjoyed in earlier years, and he very naturally examines with interest any proposition looking to the improvement and preservation of his health.

He will notice among other things that the stomach of fifty is a very different one from the stomach he possessed at twenty-five. That greatest care must be exercised as to what is eaten and how much of it, and even with the best of care there will be increasing digestive weakness with advancing years.

A proposition to perfect or improve the digestion and assimilation of food is one which interests not only every man of fifty but every man, woman and child of any age, because the whole secret of good health, good blood, strong nerves, is to have a stomach which will promptly and thoroughly digest wholesome food because blood, nerves, brain tissue and every other constituent of the body is entirely the product of digestion, and no medicine or "health" food can possibly create pure blood or restore shaky nerves when a weak stomach is replenishing the daily wear and tear of the body from a mass of fermenting half-digested food.

No, the stomach itself wants help and in no round-about way, either; it wants direct, unmistakable assistance, such as is given by one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

These tablets cure stomach trouble because their use gives the stomach a chance to rest and recuperate. One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contains digestive elements sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of ordinary food, such as bread, meat, eggs, etc.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new-fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse, as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trade mark must be a humbug, whereas as a matter of truth any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of indigestion, heartburn and heart trouble, nervous prostration and run-down condition generally than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

DEFINITION OF CANT.

The Rev. J. O. S. Huntingdon Shows Its Danger and Its Folly.

The Rev. J. O. S. Huntingdon delivered an address on "Cant" at the noonday services in the Trinity Episcopal church yesterday. The subject was introduced by the story of two men—one aggressively pious and a rascal, the other a man of integrity. On one occasion both were at a public meeting and the latter being accosted by the former for his swearing made the remark, "You pray a good deal and I swear a good deal; but I don't suppose either of us mean much by it." The speaker continued:

This is cant, using religious phraseology without meaning it; and it is a present danger. Of course we all denounce out-and-out hypocrisy, the thing that is a cold-blooded and intentional sham, but this sin of cant is one that we may all fall into with ease and almost unconsciously. Cant is nothing worse or less than unreal religious profession, and is often the outcome of routine. We did things once in earnest. The heart died out of them, and yet we are on definite lines the same. Then we have joined the host of those who indulge in cant.

When we say "Our Father," it means the recognition of every man, woman and child as the offspring of God and our brother and sister. Unless we are living up to this standard in trying to, the words "Our Father" on our lips are cant.

There is cant outside the church, too. A man says he loves to go to church but to worship God in nature." In most cases such talk is cant, for the man does not worship God in nature but goes out in the country to play golf.

Let us each ask: What is my form of cant? In what am I unreal? Lent must answer the question for us if we are not all in earnest. Reality in all things; live for this.

INVESTMENT VALUES TENDING DOWNWARD

Pennsylvania Authorized $150,000,000 New Securities and the Stock Declined--Dividends on Union Switch & Signal Increased.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The movement of the eastern stock market yesterday was more logical, the general tendency being downward. The somewhat violent advance of the night before was based upon shorts covering and the circulation of rumors relative to the adjustment of the differences between the factions in Southern Pacific. These rumors were denied before the opening of the market yesterday, and traders proceeded to put out lines of shorts. They were aided in depressing prices by the lower quotations from London, although the sales for foreign account were comparatively light. The volume of speculation was on a much smaller scale than on Monday, and for a time there was considerable irregularity in the market. A fair rally occurred shortly after midday, but in the final dealings the whole list again sold off, and before the close the average of prices was the lowest of the year to date. Among the special incidents was American Ice. The common stock opened lower at 9⅝ and broke to 5¾. The preferred also opened lower at 35 and broke to 26¼ before any support appeared. The weakness was based upon the annual report showing a deficit of $163,000. The strongest of the industrials was the copper stocks. Anaconda being up 4 points in London, and opening here about 3½ per cent higher at 121. Amalgamated Copper opened firm at 73½ and advanced to 74¾, on the strength displayed in the market for the metal. One of the weakest of the railroad investment stocks was New York Central, which after opening lower at 140⅜@141¼, declined continuously to the close, which was at 137½. This stock is still relatively much higher than other first-class railroad investments, and as there is little likelihood of an increase in the present rate of dividend, traders are bearish, using comparative figures to prove that the general tendency is for stocks to decline to a basis where the return is better than 4 per cent. The iron and steel stocks were less active, but were generally heavy with the remainder of the list.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The financial news item of the day was the action of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania railroad in unanimously passing a resolution approving the recommendation of the directorate for an increase in the capital stock. The present authorized capital is $250,000,000, of which about $204,000,000 is outstanding, the remainder being held for the purpose of conversion of bonds into stock. The resolution passed provides for an increase of $150,000,000, making the total $400,000,000, and the directors are given the option of issuing $50,000,000 of the total increase in the shape of convertible bonds. It will be recalled that when the notice of the annual meeting was issued, two months ago, a "feeler" was put out in the shape of an interview with an official of the company in which it was suggested that the management might recommend a doubling of the capital and bonds of the company. The suggestion was freely criticised, and there is little doubt that the proposition as finally submitted was modified to accord more with public sentiment. Still $150,000,000 is not a small sum, even for latter-day financiering, and the stock sold off rather sharply after the announcement of the action of the meeting, declining to 142¾, the lowest price quoted since October, 1901. What proportion of the authorized issue will be offered to stockholders cannot at the moment be stated, but it is to be inferred that it will be a considerable amount, since the company will desire to pay off the proceeds of the loan negotiated early in the year, and will also vigorously prosecute the improvements for which the new capital is required. It was announced at the meeting yesterday that fully $10,000,000 would be required to complete improvements in the Pittsburgh district, and anyone who will withdraw his view from the stock market, and concentrate it upon the effects of the disbursement of this sum in this community, cannot but feel gratified. Coming on top of the $14,000,000 to be expended by the United States Steel Corporation, and the other millions to be expended by the Jones & Laughlin Steel and other companies, the outlook for the legitimate business interests of this particular community is very bright.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

Call loans opened and closed at 6 per cent, and while the rate got as low as 3½ per cent at one time during the day, the market was quoted firm at 5@6 per cent, the largest number of renewals being at the higher rate. It is estimated that the banks have lost between $2,300,000 and $2,500,000 so far this week to the subtreasury, and there was a transfer of $100,000 to New Orleans during the day. The figures indicate that unless there is a calling of loans to offset this loss in cash, the surplus reserve on Saturday will not only be wiped out, but there will be a deficit in legal requirements. There was a revival of the report that a large financial institution was making arrangements for the importation of gold, but no definite statement to this effect was forthcoming. The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany yesterday showed an insignificant increase in cash and a reduction of about $2,150,000 in loans. It is believed that the German bankers are getting the home money market into shape for the issue of the new loan of $57,500,000 to be floated next month to cover the deficit in the imperial revenues.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday the strongest and most active security was Manufacturers Light and Heat, which advanced steadily from 39 to 105, a record price, closing at the top, a net gain of 6¼ points for the day. Window Glass common was second in point of activity, and advanced from 45 to 46, a small lot selling at the latter price, the stock closing firm at 45½@45¾. According to rumor, some of the outside manufacturers were more disposed to follow the example of the American and close their factories with the view of averting complete demoralization in the trade. Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 140, a decline of 1 per cent. The coal stocks were dull and unchanged, while the steel stocks were steady. Crucible Steel preferred remained unchanged at 85¾, but the common rallied a fraction to 19½, one small lot selling at 20. The directors met during the afternoon and declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock. Small lots of Union Switch and Signal sold at 88@90, a slight advance. The directors after the annual meeting yesterday declared a dividend of 1½ per cent on the common, being an increase of ½ per cent over the last previous quarterly dividend, and a dividend of 2½ per cent on the preferred, being an increase of ¼ per cent. It was announced at the meeting that the directors had in contemplation an increase in the capital stock.

Federal National bank was the most active member of its group, and advanced to 135½, a record price. A small lot of American Trust sold at 490, and it was later offered at 480, a decline of $20 a share from Monday's price. Iron City Trust sold to the extent of 200 shares, advanced to 145¾. United States National bank sold at 130 "when issued," but the regular stock closed at 142 bid. Equitable Trust closed 2 per cent higher at 177.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Holders of Union Switch & Signal common did not enthuse very much over the increase in the rate of dividend from 4 per cent per annum to 5 per cent., although the official statement that the board was considering the advisability of increasing the capital for the purpose of retiring bonds and floating debt, so that a larger percentage of earnings may be disbursed as dividends, is encouraging for another increase in the rate next year. Under the terms of the issue, the preferred stock is entitled to 6 per cent per annum before anything is paid on the common, and to ½ per cent additional for each 1 per cent paid on the common until 10 per cent per annum is paid on the preferred, when each class shares equally in any increase declared. The dividend on the preferred stock yesterday therefore was increased to 2¼ per cent for the quarter, or at the rate of 9 per cent per annum.

There was a sale of Philadelphia Company new 5s at 104½.

Thus far the tip on Manufacturers Light & Heat has worked beautifully. The stock opened the year at 80, and predictions were made that it would sell above 125 this year. Yesterday it sold at 105, a net advance of $25 a share in less than three months. The par value is $50, and while the Philadelphia company but the latter stock is now quoted about $3 below the best price of the year. Yesterday's largest buyers of Manufacturers were Morris, Brown & Co. and Sproul & Co. G. W. McMullen & Co. were sellers. Hall was active on both sides of the market.

German American Savings & Trust was quoted at 170@175; Pittsburgh Life & Trust at 165 bid; South Side Trust, 116@120; Merchants Savings & Trust, 74 asked; Iron City Trust, 145¾@146½.

Masten & Co. were the largest buyers of Window Glass, and Sproul & Co. the largest buyers of Crucible Steel common.

The weakness in National Fire Proofing common, which sold down to 27½ at the close yesterday, is by some attributed to the strike of structural steel workers. If this strike should be come general and prolonged, it would delay the construction of large buildings, and to some extent curtail the output of National Fire Proofing products.

The Crucible Steel directors yesterday declared the tenth consecutive quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable March 30 to stock of record March 18. The stock was yesterday quoted on a parity with United States Steel preferred.

There were sales on the local board yesterday of Ohio Fuel Supply at 35, a record price.

Illinois Central sold off to 138½ at the close on the statement of the company for January. This showed that while gross earnings increased $280,000 the net decreased more than $117,000.

The slump in American Ice stocks was justified by the annual report showing a deficit of $162,000, as compared with a surplus of $636,000 for the previous year.

Taking yesterday's lowest prices, the investment basis of leading railroad stocks is approximately as follows Pennsylvania pays 4.20 per cent; New York Central, 3.80; St. Paul, 4.20; Illinois Central, 4.29; Nashville, 4.40; Missouri Pacific, 4.75; Union Pacific, 4.44; Baltimore & Ohio, 4.32. Metropolitan Street Railway, 5.50; Manhattan, 5 per cent. Two months ago the majority of these stocks were quoted at prices which net the investor less than 4 per cent. When, in last January, the Lake Shore borrowed $35,000,000 for a year at 5 per cent, and the Pennsylvania paid 4½ per cent for a bank loan of $40,000,000, notice was given to investors of the enhanced value of money, from which there was only one conclusion to be drawn, and that was, the price of investment securities was likely to decline to a level where the return would more approximate the money market rate on call and time loans.

Barbour bought a block of 200 shares Pittsburgh Plate Glass at 140 from Sproul & Co.

The American Smelting & Refining Company has advanced the price of pig lead $5 per ton, to $4 35 per hundred weight, on account of demand and increase in foreign price.

A dividend of 2 per cent has been declared on Otis Elevator common stock.

A Pittsburgh house which wired its New York correspondent for an opinion relative to participating in the United States Steel bond conversion, received this reply: "We will not convert any of our stock, but intend to sell the rights."

Western operators were credited with leading the selling of the railroad stocks, while the break in Metropolitan was called a "Keene raid."

An elaborate table analyzing the reports of the 49 banks and companies in the State of New York makes the following showing: Percentage of average earnings to capital, 26 per cent for banks and 42 per cent for trust companies; earnings to combined capital and surplus, 15.61 and 11.44 per cent respectively; earnings based upon bid price for stocks, 6.50 and 6.51; average annual net return to investor based upon bid price, 2.43 and 2.56 per cent. The average bid price for stocks is 89 per cent in excess of book value for bank and 76 for trust companies.

The recent report of the Maryland Coal Company for the year on January 1 shows 16 per cent earned on its outstanding preferred shares of $1,885,000. It has no bonded debt or common shares. Since the close of the fiscal year, this company, jointly with the American Coal Company, has sold some coal lands in West Virginia bought some time ago by the two companies as an investment, which sale nets a profit of over $500,000. The Maryland company has in its treasury investments, representing a part of its surplus of nearly $600,000 in first-class railway bonds, which together with large cash balances in its depository banks of about $400,000 gives the company a cash surplus of 60 per cent to 65 per cent of its capital shares. The last year it paid 7 per cent on its stock.

The table which follows, compiled by the Philadelphia news bureau, shows the amount of dividends paid by the Pennsylvania railroad in each of the last 18 years, the amounts set aside for extraordinary expenses and the surplus carried to profit and loss:

	Dividends.	Improvements.	Surplus.
1887	$ 5,418,702	$ 1,241,115	$ 2,365,037

Recapitulation.

Paid in dividends 16 years.....$114,509,465
Appropriated for improvements, etc. 53,877,541
Surplus..... 22,216,880

Total $190,603,886

It thus appears that, taking the last 16 years, Pennsylvania has out of every dollar of surplus income given 60 cents in dividends and spent the rest in one way or another on the property. The surplus has not actually been appropriated for the property, it has been used in one way or another thereon. Of late years the company has followed the basis of 50 cents of each net dollar for dividends and 50 cents for the property.

English consols closed at 91⅛ yesterday, which is the lowest price quoted during the Boer war.

The advance in government bonds gave rise to unconfirmed rumors of an intention by the secretary of the treasury to buy bonds for the sinking fund and thus release funds to the money market. United States new 4s advanced ½ and old 4s, 5s and 6s registered ¼ per cent on the last call. Railroad bonds were weak, the total sales reaching $2,625,000.

Another evidence of the dominance of the money situation was the sensitiveness of speculation to rumors regarding the manner in which payments are to be made to the Panama canal stockholders. A formulated report of the intention of the secretary of the treasury to deposit public funds with banks to the extent of $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 for this payment aggravated the market's weakness.

The recovery in foreign exchange and the rise in discounts at London were highly significant and conveyed an intimation of the effects to follow an undue resort to foreign credit facilities.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is firm at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Bank exchanges keep up well, being swelled to some extent by the larger dealings in the stock market. Comparisons:

PENN AVENUE TO THE FRONT

Two Properties in That Street Sold for $62,500 and $35,000.

HOTEL SOLD FOR $47,500

Railroad Shops at McKees Rocks Are Making Big Call for Houses — Pennsylvania Planning East End Invasion.

Penn avenue property, which made a decided spurt in the market last week, seems likely to hold a prominent place in the eyes of the realty public this week. Two more sales were reported yesterday, both in localities where buying has been frequent of late. The larger deal was made through Isaac Sachs, who sold for Thomas B. Hutchinson No. 804 Penn avenue, for $62,500. The lot measures 20x110 feet on the south side of the avenue and extends through to Exchange alley. It is improved with a four-story brick building used for stores and offices. The buyer, whose name was withheld by request, is a leading business man, who takes the property for an investment. The rate of sale was a little over $3,100 a front foot, which illustrates forcibly the rise in values in this locality the past year. Less than six months ago Dr. R. H. McKenzie bought the property adjoining at No. 860 Penn avenue, for $46,600, or $2,300 a front foot, although the improvements were as good as on No. 804, which was sold yesterday.

PAID $1,100 A FOOT.

The other Penn avenue purchase was made by John C. Sauer, who bought the C. Roth property at Nos. 1331 and 1333, for about $35,000, or $1,100 a front foot. The lot has a frontage of 31 feet and a depth of 109 feet, and is improved with a brick block. It is on the north side of the avenue, almost directly across from the market house. This is the second sale in this immediate neighborhood within a week, the other being the Gillespie holdings, 59x100 feet, at Penn avenue and Thirteenth street, which sold for $50,000, or $1,000 a front foot.

The Denny estate has disposed of the old brickyard, at the southwest corner of Liberty avenue and Thirty-sixth street, for $21,500. It comprises a plot 200x200 feet, extending back to Sassafras street. The purchaser is Evan Jones, the contractor, who, in company with a number of real estate men, will grade down the hill and improve the property with a number of brick and frame houses, adding materially to the appearance of the neighborhood.

FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL SOLD.

Through the Real Estate Trust Company the Hotel Sheppard, at the southeast corner of Fifth and Oakland avenues, has been sold to a prominent local investor for $47,500. Title to the property was obtained from Thomas and Margaretha Jones. The property is in two sections one, 75x117 feet, being the corner lot and the other, 20.5x120 feet, running from this lot to Bouquet street. The hotel is a three-story brick building. Besides this there are erected on the lot five one-story frame buildings, all of which are well rented.

C. C. Hamilton and Thomas McCaffrey have negotiated the sale of a property, 24x100 feet, at the northeast corner of Penn avenue and Twentieth street, for $15,000. The former owner was Andrew Lang and the buyer is M. Dwyer, who takes the property for an investment. Four brick houses of six rooms each occupy the lot.

Davies & Co. of the East End have sold for Margaret A. McGillick to Sarah J. Eller a fine center hall brick house of 12 rooms, on the east side of Rebecca street, near Harriet street, Twentieth ward, for $16,000. The lot measures 50x150 feet.

MCKEES ROCKS NEEDS MORE HOUSES.

Owing to the big industrial plants being built at McKees Rocks there is an unprecedented demand for houses of every description this spring. The chief attraction is the immense locomotive and car works of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company, which will cost $700,000. In addition to the $200,000 which was voted recently for other shops. In anticipation of securing employment in these works when they start, about June 1, hundreds of men are looking for homes near by. A large proportion of the labor employed, especially in the car shops will be skilled, and the workmen will receive high wages. At present every house at McKees Rocks, like every other suburb of Pittsburgh, is rented to its fullest capacity at a high figure. Several schemes are already on foot to build from 10 to 50 tenement houses at once, in order to provide for the rush of workmen. One such project is assured, the owner being M. Rosiano, formerly of Dubois, Pa., who will start work next week on 20 houses. They will be six room frame and brick dwellings, located in Woodward and Dohrman avenues, in the West Park plan, and will cost at least $2,500 each. The same party will build a three-story flat at a cost of $15,000. Last year 150 houses were built on this plan of lots and those which have not been sold are rented now at an average of $25 a month.

FEBRUARY MADE A GAIN.

Contrary to expectations, February showed a good gain over the corresponding month last year in building operations. A total of 249 permits were issued for work estimated to cost $873,371. This was a gain of 74 permits, amounting to $891,722, over February, 1902. Compared with January, 1903, the month showed 46 more permits granted, but a falling off in amount to $415,583. This is conclusive proof that house building is on the increase. From present indications the year will show more building done than in 1902, in the face of high prices.

Judging from the actions of Pennsylvania railroad surveyors negotiations may soon be started for the purchase of a large block of property in the East End for another crosstown project through the Thirty-seventh ward. Several surveys have been made lately, the last on Thursday and Friday of last week, in the north side of the tracks extending from Dallas avenue to the Brushton yards. The property included lies between the railroad and Susquehanna street and is about 300 feet wide. It is said that this property is wanted for more tracks, the object being to avoid the crossing of tracks that will otherwise be necessary. The Depew and Hess properties, extending along the railroad from Murtland avenue to Clawson street, are reported to have been optioned for about $100,000, and a number of other smaller properties near by are being sought.

FRESH EGGS ADVANCE; POULTRY DECLINES

Oats Scarce With Quotations Stronger — Sugar Prices Being Maintained.

The Lenten season is bolstering up the egg market wonderfully, prices for fresh having advanced to 21 cents wholesale, with 20 cents really the bottom for strictly fresh. The demand is active and has brought about an improvement in the market which was sudden and scarcely expected. Butter is unchanged and steady at last week's prices.

Chickens are coming in quite plentifully and prices are low. Lots on commission are selling below quotations, but regular dealers are maintaining prices fairly well, and believe there will be a falling off in receipts, on account of bad country roads.

Except for an advance in oats, brought about by the light receipts, there is no quotable change in the local hay and grain market yesterday. Conditions are generally firm, however, and there is a hardening tendency in several lines, which dealers are pleased to believe will produce improved prices. Hay is firm, receipts, which have been larger during a few days just past than heretofore, having been placed readily among waiting buyers without disturbing quoted figures. Straw is firm and active competition was shown yesterday to secure the few cars offered. Rye is unchanged, but offered is quiet.

Western wheat trading was on an easier basis, but no sufficient change was made in spot prices to affect flour. Spring patent holds steadily to the quoted list, and there is no apparent reason for any decline, as buyers are not objecting to prices asked. Cereals are steady, with supplies of oat and cornmeal more plentiful.

Sugar is held at quotations last reported and there is every reason to believe that so far jobbers have found it possible to maintain those figures without resorting to cutting to meet competition.

Apples move slowly and are occasioning considerable uneasiness to holders who are facing losses which to many are only a question of amount. The season of heavy production last year, and dealers bought heavily from growers at high figures, believing that there would be another strong market such as prevailed when the previous crop was sold. But appies at $5 a barrel were not wanted during the fall and winter of 1902, and those who had bought heavily and stored away large stocks, are now anxious to sell at almost any figure, as losses are daily accruing from spoiled stock and storage charges. Sales are made below cost, and five firms in one city alone are said to have lost $200,000 in apples. At the same time the grower is in clover, having sold his crop at good prices.

Old onions are going down and are offering at $1 per barrel in large lots. Fresh stuff is coming in from the south regularly, but has not yet taken a strong hold on buyers. Florida tomatoes will bring as high as $5 a crate for fancy stock, but this is hard to find. String beans are in a similar condition, and will bring very high figures for fancy, of which there is little offered. Potatoes hold their own firmly, while other produce is unchanged.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts, bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 20 cars hay, 2 cars rye, 2 cars oats, 2 cars corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 5 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car straw, 1 car grass, 3 cars rye; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 2 cars hay; total receipts, 39 cars.

HORSE MARKET.

Two hundred horses were offered for sale at the auction yesterday, and were disposed of at good prices, figures obtained averaging better than at any time since last fall. Buyers are out in force, matching, and are prepared to do business when there is a chance to secure good stock.

Retail selling is picking up somewhat, and is still growing more active. Inquiries are coming to dealers in increased volume, and a good spring trade is expected.

The leading futures, reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., members of the Chicago board of trade, No. 200 Sixth street, are as follows:

COL. PARKHURST'S MARRIAGE PROBED

Bishop O'Connell Sends His Report of Investigation to Rome.

TO ANNUL FIRST UNION

Divorced Wife Desires to Have the Catholic Church Recognize Her as Princess Rospigliosi. Congregation Must Decide.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ROME, March 10.—The congregation of the propaganda has received from Bishop O'Connell of Portland, Me., his report on the investigation he made into the marriage of Princess Rospigliosi, nee Reid, of Washington, with her divorced husband, Col. Parkhurst of Bangor, Me. The princess wishes to prove that her marriage with Col. Parkhurst was illegal, and thus have it annulled by the church, in order to pave the way to a church recognition of her marriage with Prince Rospigliosi and an authorization for a religious ceremony here. Bishop O'Connell does not give an opinion, so that the congregation must settle the dispute.

Princess Rospigliosi, who is a Catholic, was divorced, in 1898, from Col. Parkhurst, who was a Protestant, and in 1901 was married in Rome to Prince Rospigliosi, head of an ancient family of clerical nobility and brother to the commandant of the Papal Noble guard. The ceremony was a civil one, and from the first the Catholic church refused to recognize the marriage.

When the prince first applied to the congregation of the propaganda for recognition of his wife's divorce in the United States the church declined to recognize it, but Monsignor Chappelle, who married Mrs. Parkhurst to her first husband, since testified before the congregation that the first marriage was irregular, according to the laws of the church.

UNION LEADERS OPPOSE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Object to Employment Bureau Feature as Menace During Strikes.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, PA., March 10.—The state Federation of Labor has joined with the leaders of the United Mine Workers here in opposing the bill creating a state department of labor. The bill has already passed second reading in the house and its sponsor, Representative Weaver of Allegheny, may call it up for final passage at any time.

The objectionable feature of the bill is the clause which provides for a state bureau of employment. Its opponents say that if it becomes a law in this form it will force the state to furnish non-union men during strikes. Formal action on this and the numerous other labor bills before the legislature will be taken at tomorrow's session of the federation.

The annual convention of the federation opened today in this city with 100 delegates, representing 81 labor unions and over 5,000 members present. Elmer E. Greenawalt of Lancaster was appointed assistant secretary and Stephen McDonald of Scranton sergeant-at-arms.

The reports of Hugh Frayne of Scranton, president, and C. F. Quinn of Wilkesbarre, secretary-treasurer, showed the organization to be in a thriving condition.

QUOTES FROM M'KINLEY

Says He Is Willing to Help Form Party for Exclusive Use of Sage of Princeton—Address at Michigan Convention.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DETROIT, March 10.—Without the presence of William Jennings Bryan, who made an address at the morning session, today's Democratic state judicial convention at the Light Guard armory in this city would have been featureless. Judge George L. Yaple of Mendon was nominated for supreme judge without any other name being presented.

The resolutions bespeak the support of "thoughtful citizens for those principles of government which find expression through the National platforms of the party." The initiative and referendum is demanded, and the recent coal strike is cited as an indication of the necessity for the municipal ownership of public utilities.

Col. Bryan, in his address to the convention, said:

No Democrat has reason to be despondent. We must not work on the principle of expediency. We must be sure we are building on the right ground. There never was a time when there was a greater need for the application of Democratic principles than today. Down east, in Delaware, I learned more about some other things than about future candidates for the presidency. I found that many Republicans were fighting against a man named Addicks. I found that in some places three-quarters of the voters had received money for their votes.

I can't draw a distinction between the men who sell their votes for $5 and the one who makes $1,000,000 trading in party politics. I remember a case where J. P. Morgan made millions on a matter of Republican policy. All the difference between Addicks and the rest is that he confessed openly to what the others do secretly.

I have been accused of preventing harmony. No man wants harmony more than I do, and no one has suffered more for lack of it than I have. But you can't keep in one organization men who want to cut each other's throats. They accuse me of saying hard things about Cleveland. I never said anything about him so hard as did President McKinley, who said: "Cleveland is trying to make money the master, and all things else the servant."

I am not ashamed of any humble part I may have had in driving out of the Democratic party a man who tried to make money the master and everything else the servant. I want him in some other party than ours. I would be glad to help organize one for his exclusive use.

OLD STRIKE IS OFF; NEW ONE DECLARED ON

The Tile Layers Win Out, After Months of Idleness—Painters Putting Up a Fight.

One strike was settled and another ordered yesterday. The strike of the tile layers was formally declared off by the Building Trades council and the men will resume work this morning. They have been on strike since the beginning of January. All the employers signed the scale, which gives the men $4 40 for a day of eight hours. About 400 men were involved.

The action of the painters' district council in declaring a general strike in all the shops that had not signed the scale, resulted in about 25 of the shops being deserted by the men yesterday. Up to last night seven additional firms had agreed to the demands of the union.

Business Agent Frank Smith stated that he was encouraged by the outlook and felt that the end of the week would see many of the shops settled with the men. The painters are elated over the admonitions given by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who while in Philadelphia advised against any of the union crafts supporting the Amalgamated association of Painters.

News of the Labor World.

The labor organizations of the Pittsburgh district are favoring the candidacy of Charles A. Bently, a conductor on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston division, as recorder of Washington county. He is a member of the Order of Railway Conductors.

Local No. 551 of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers held a mass meeting last night in the Vilsack building. This local has over 375 members and embraces all the craft in the East End. Frank Smith presided. About 130 members of the local are at work, their employers having signed the scale.

President Patrick Dolan and Secretary William Dodds leave this morning for Wampum, where they will meet the operators and representatives of the miners of that district and arrange a wage scale in conformity with that adopted recently at Indianapolis. About 400 men will secure a 12½ per cent increase in wages.

Secretary Michael F. Tighe of the Amalgamated association returned yesterday from Ashland, Ky., where he attended a mass meeting of the mill workers of that district, who are on strike. A resolution was adopted indorsing the stand taken by the sheet mill workers in resisting the alleged violation of the wage agreement on part of the sheet mill company.

The new local of the paperhangers of the East End met in the Vilsack building, 6209 Penn avenue, last evening. T. B. McDonald, the business agent, was in charge. A number of new members were elected and steps were taken to secure prmanent quarters. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, March 17. Officers will be elected and an application for a charter filed.

Secretary Paul St. Peter of the Window Glass Workers' association is sending out for the second time, voting sheets to the preceptories. They are returnable Saturday, March 28. The executive board will meet in the evening and compute the returns. St. Peter will probably be chosen president, as at the count last Saturday he was within 200 votes of a majority.

Diplomats Will Confer.

YOUNG FITZ DUCKED.

Son of Celebrated Pugilist Nearly Loses His Life While Playing at a Pier.

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Special.)—LMartin Fitzsimmons, the 5-year-old son of Bob Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, narrowly escaped drowning in Gravesend bay today. He and his elder brother, Bob, went with other boys to play at Simpson's pier, a short distance from the Fitzsimmons residence. There was a great deal of wreckage underneath the pier and the most venturesome of the boys climbed down to play with it.

Martin, who is strong as a lion cub and a big boy for his age, went down to the wreckage with the other boys. Not content with scampering around on planks he attempted to walk the length of a big log floating alongside the pier. He had got half way along the log, when it turned and soused him into the cold waters of the bay. Brother Bob got assistance and Martin was pulled out.
